At EPCOT, you can Explore Future World. . .

. . . and visit pavilions from different countries

FUTURE WORLD

When you visit EPCOT'S Future World, you'll feel like you've just stepped off a time machine into the land of tomorrow. You'll see some very strange things— like people living and working in space colonies, cars that run on sunshine instead of gasoline, talking computers and robots that look and act just like people.

With the help of realistic sets, life-like Audio-Anima-tronic figures, special effects, and your own imagination, Future World gives you a peek at what life might be like for people who live many, many years from now.

But to understand what lies ahead, we must first look at the past. So at Future World, you'll also have a chance to go back in time and visit huge dinosaurs that ruled the Earth, cavemen who hunted and drew on cave walls. old - fashioned farms and towns of yesterday. You'll even see an ancient volcano erupt right before your eyes!

In the pavilions of Future World, you'll learn all about energy, transportation, agriculture, communications, technology, and imagination. You'll see where we've been, where we are now and where we're headed for the future.

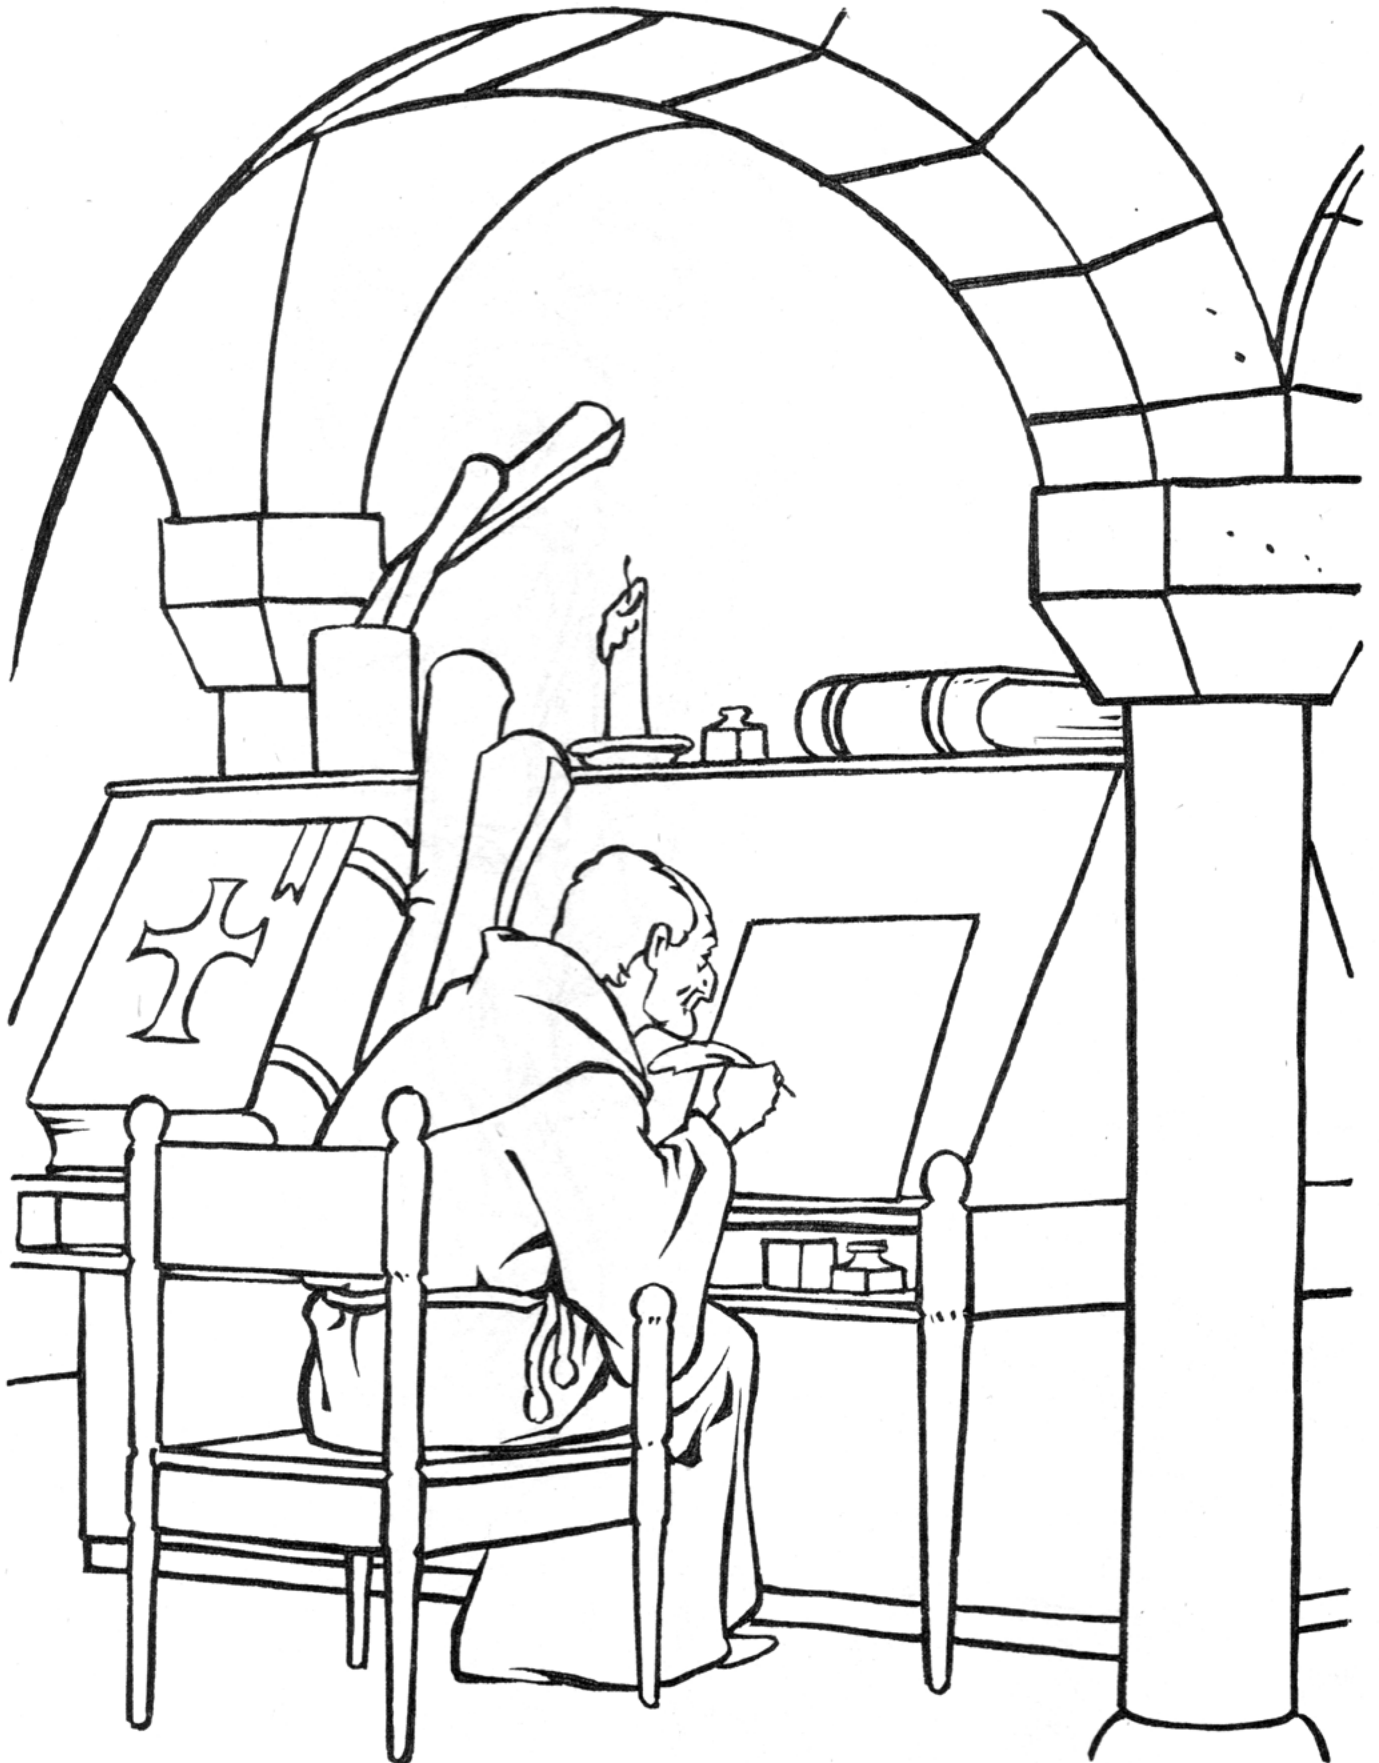

In Spaceship Earth, we learn the story of communication.

Long ago, cavemen drew on the walls of their caves.

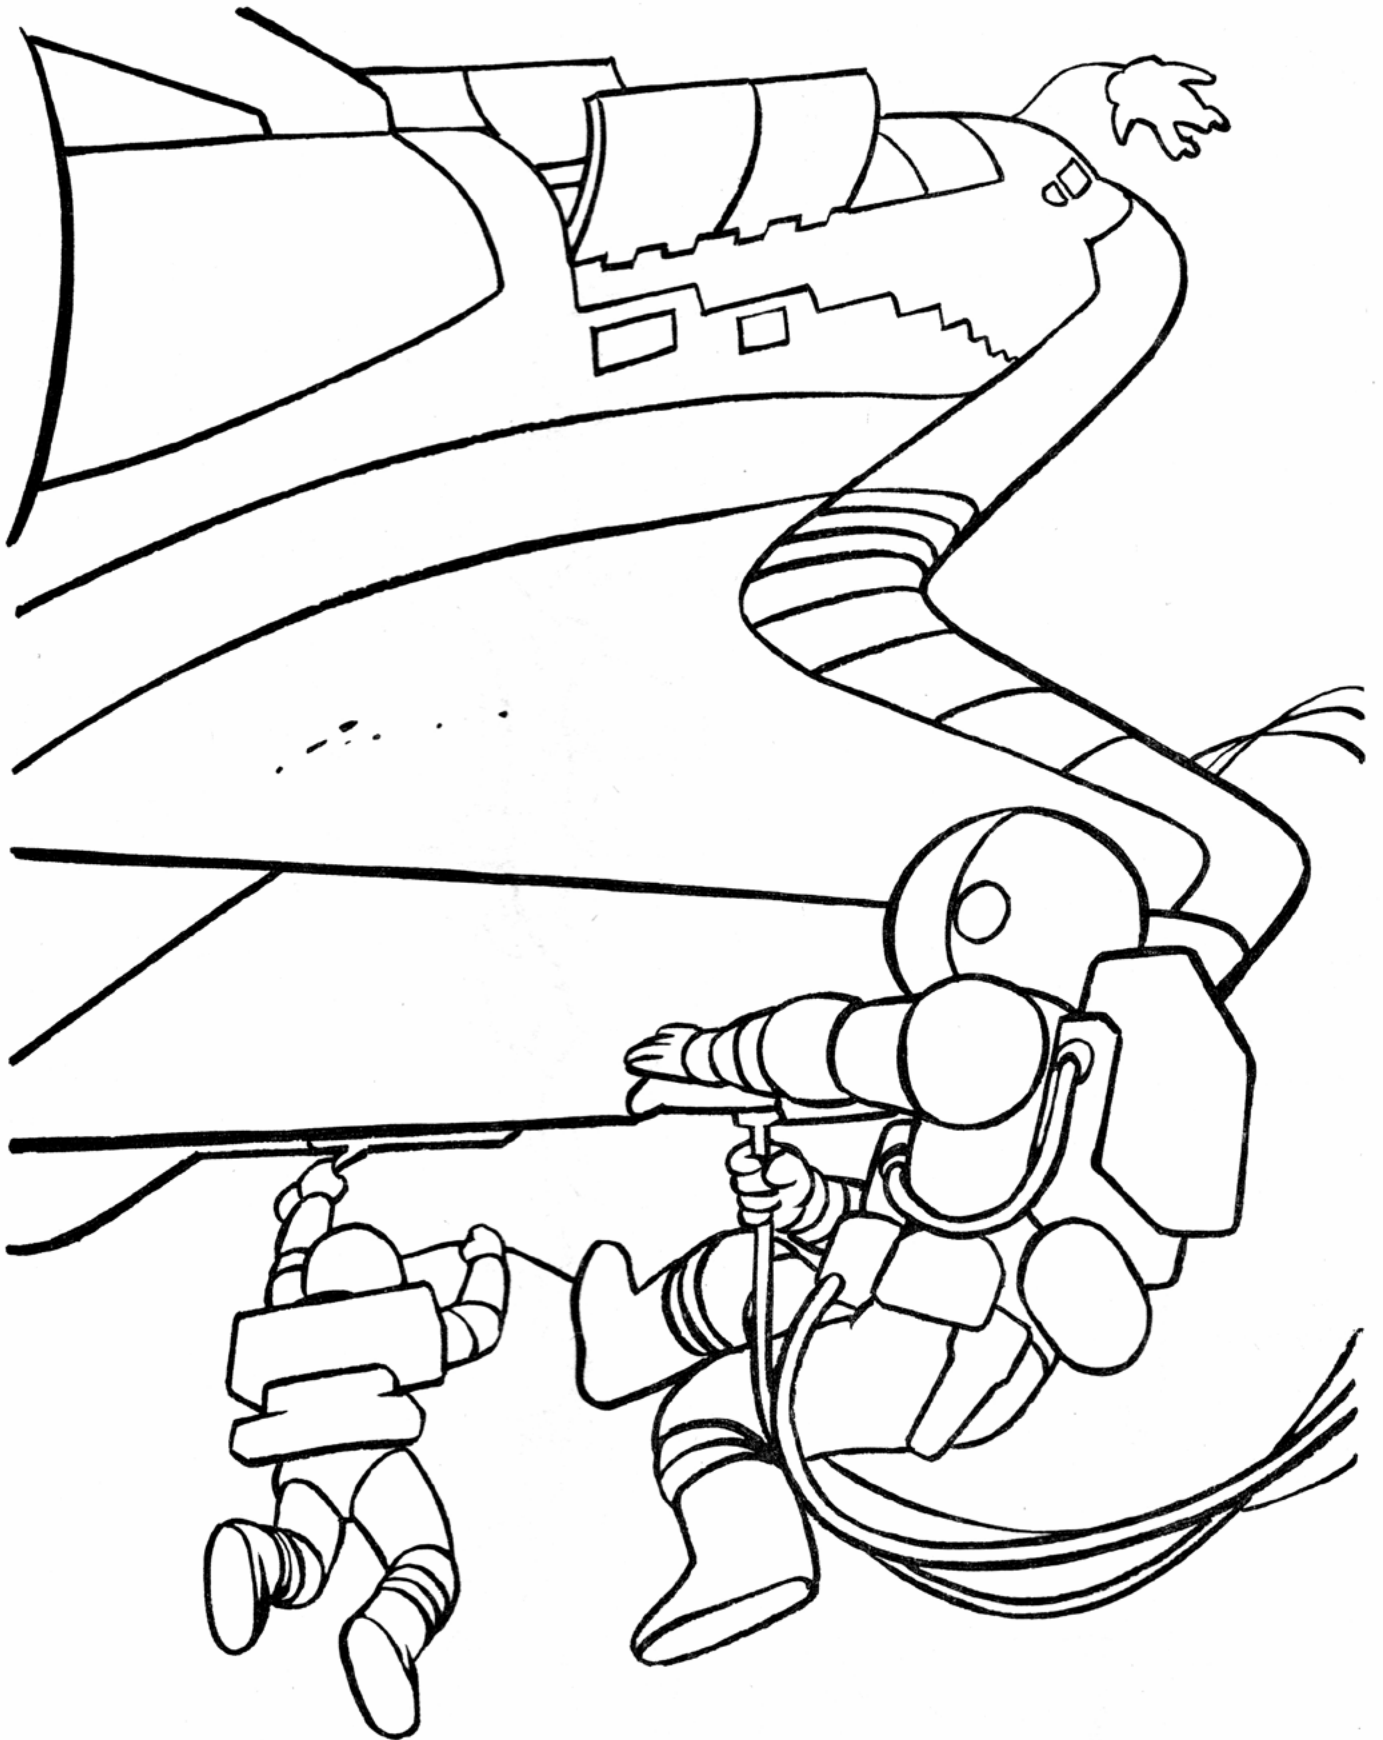

They told stories with their pictures.

Before the printing press, books were copied by hand.

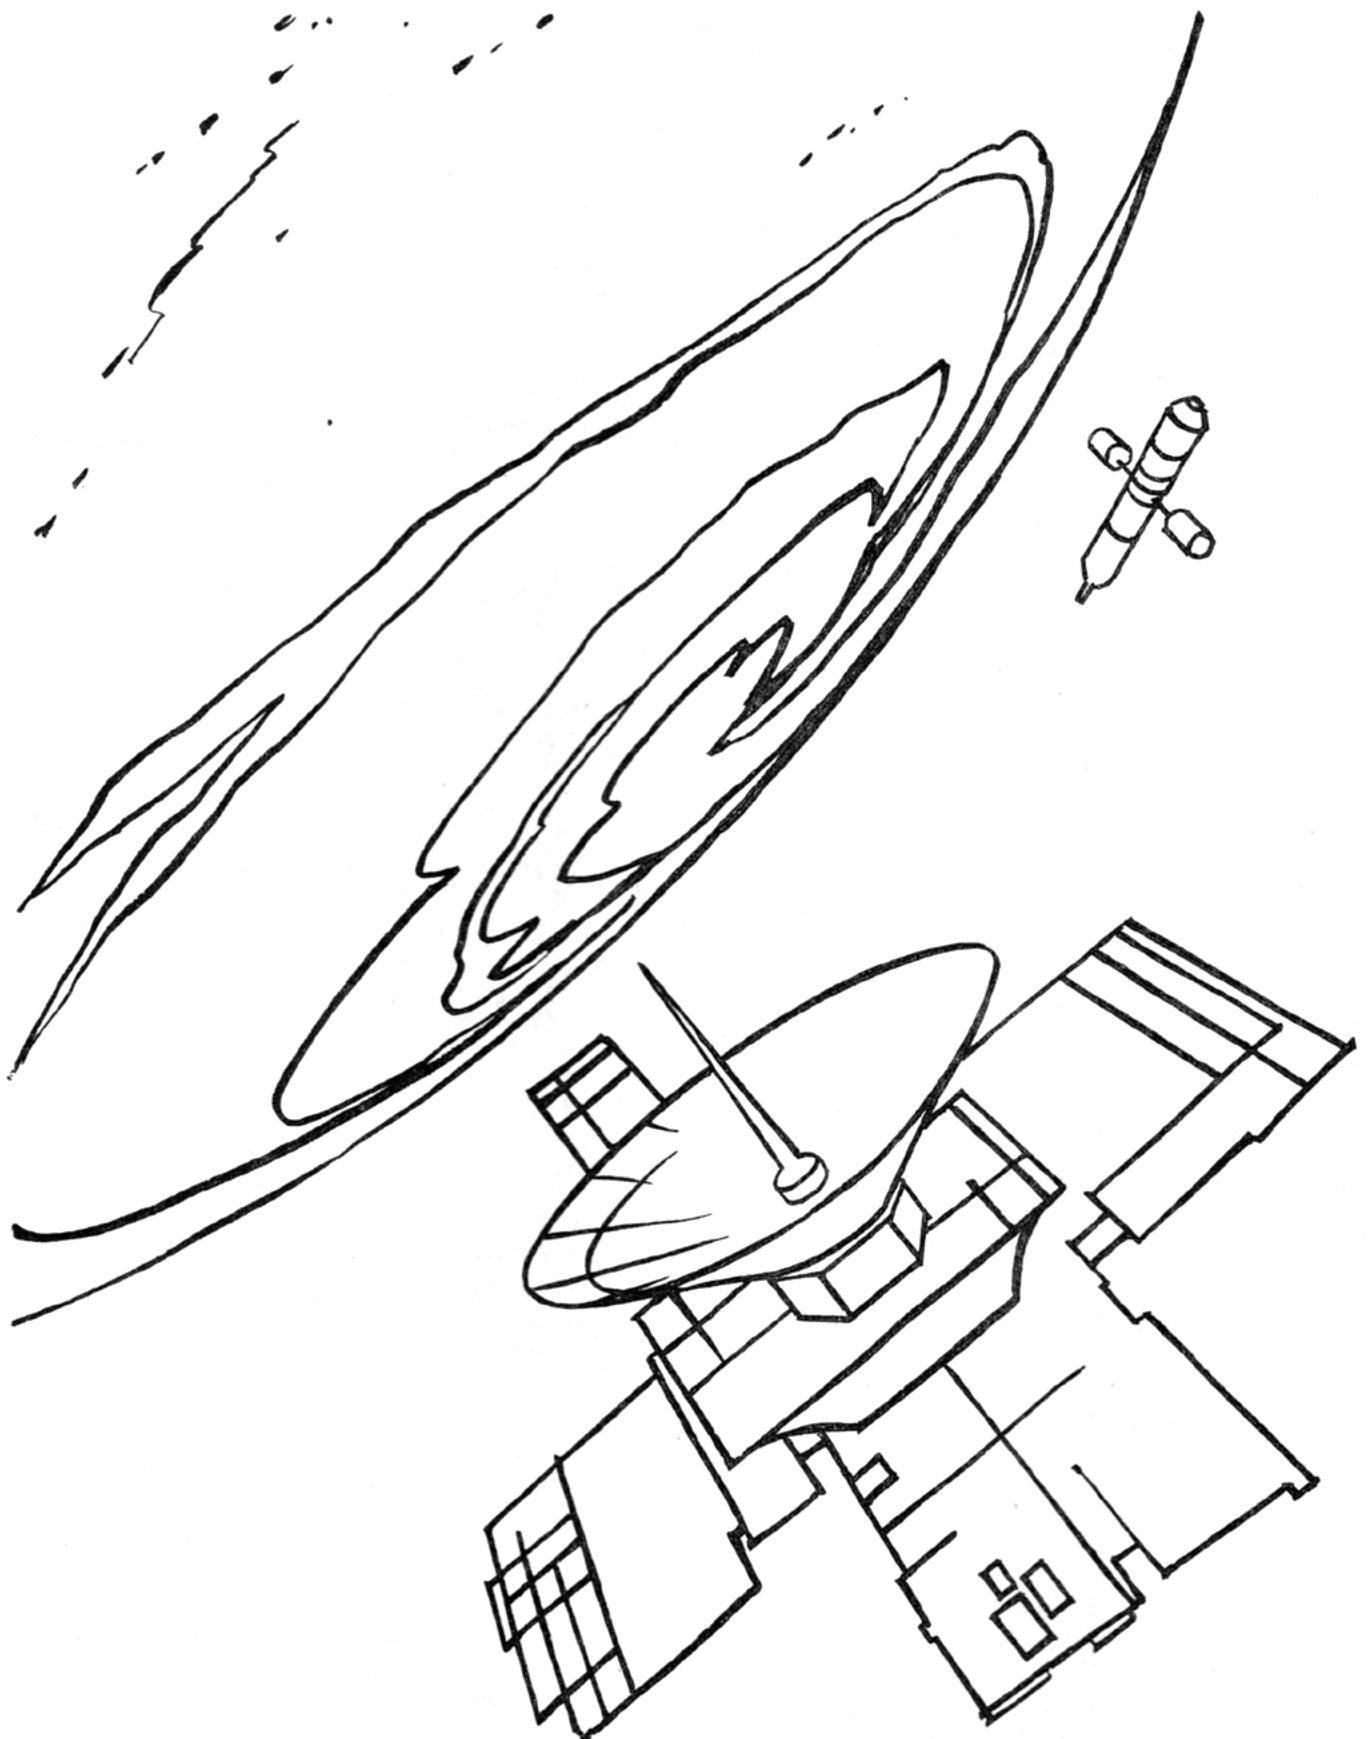

Johannes Gutenberg invented movable type for the printing press

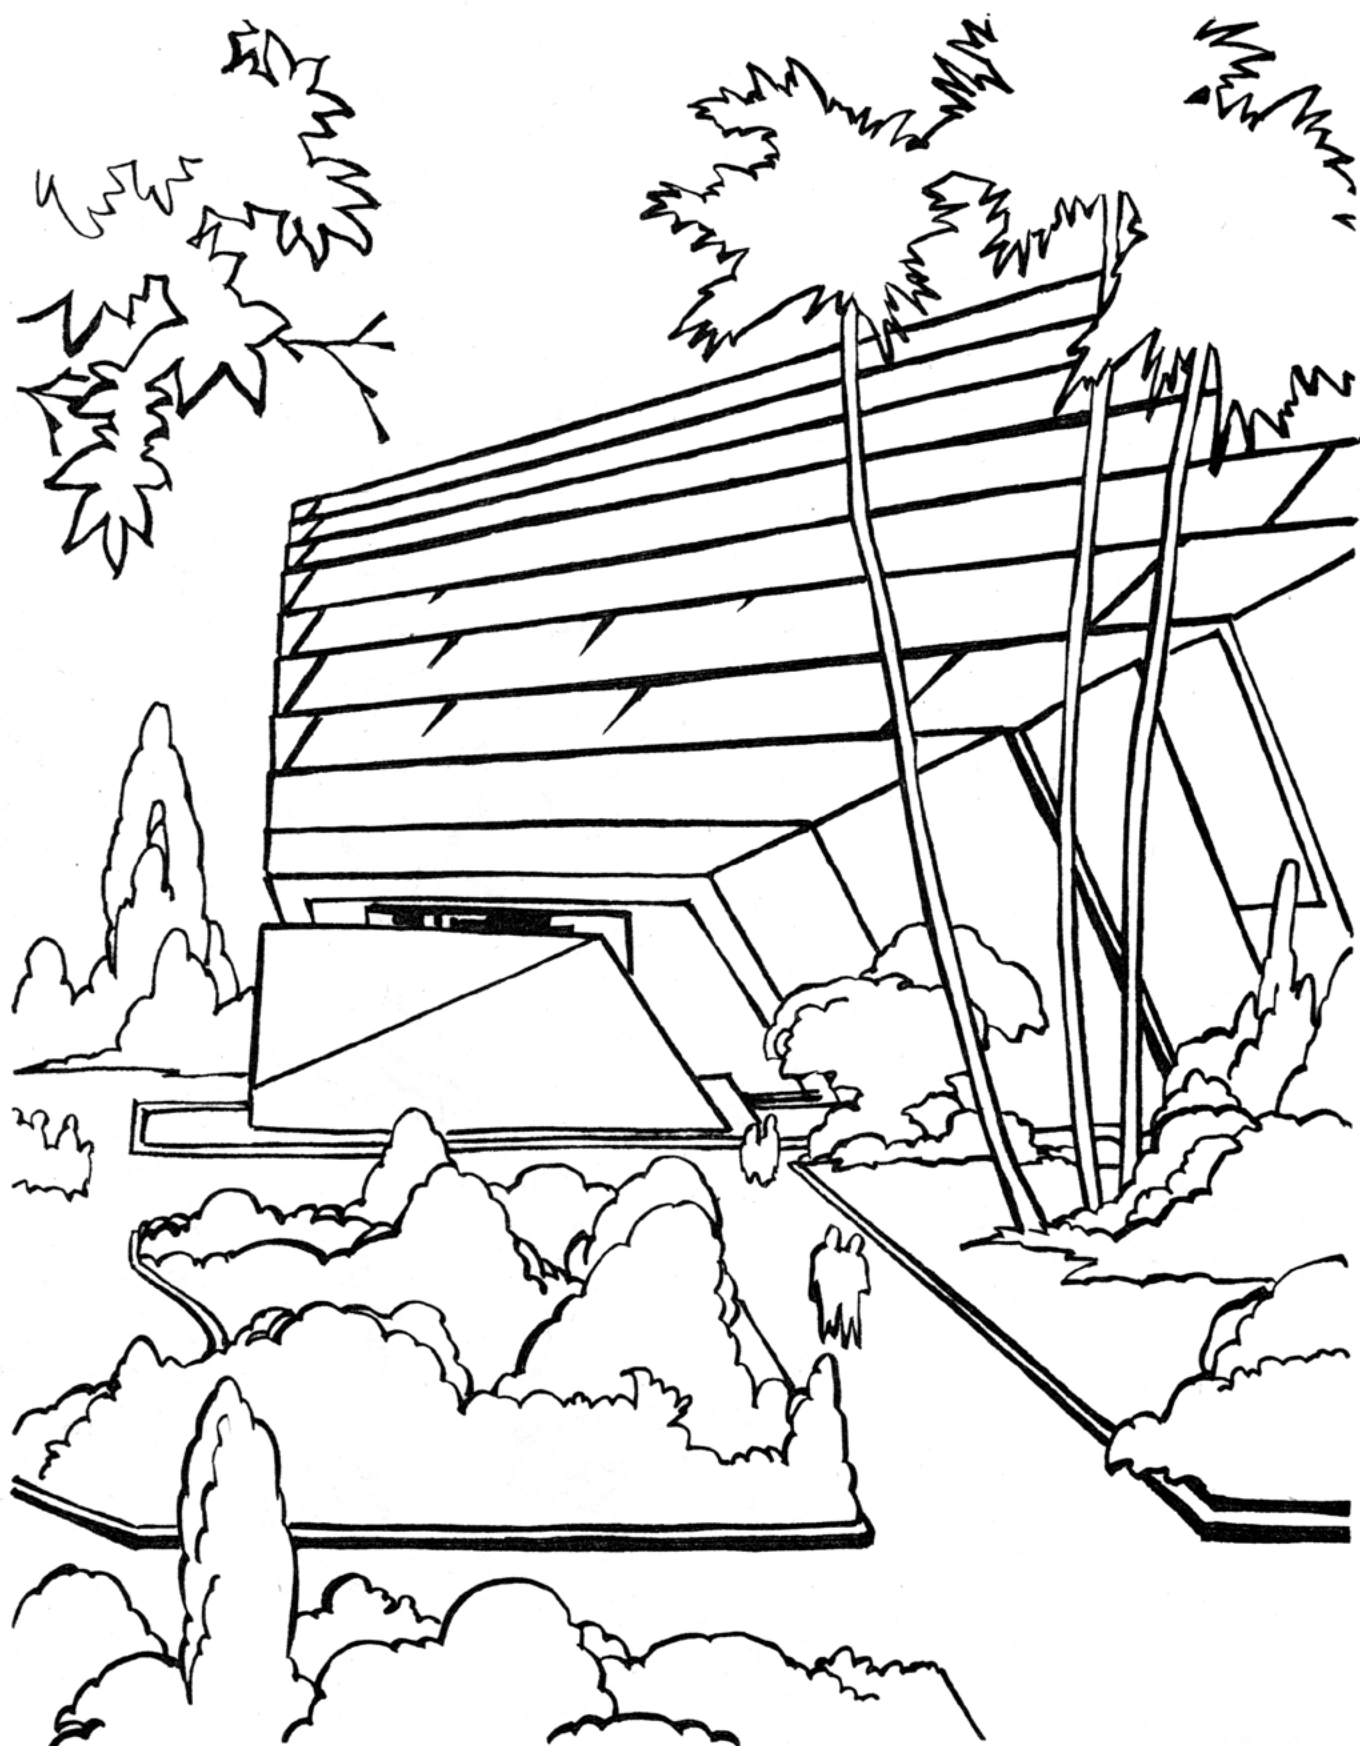

Outside in space, astronauts repair a shuttle

Inside the shuttle, astronauts talk to Earth

A satellite in space sends information back to Earth.

The Energy Pavilion gets its power from the sun.

A group of brontosaurus lives peacefully. . .

. . .in a prehistoric forest.

Tyrannosaurus Rex roars and thrashes

A scary-looking pteranodon flies over the forest.

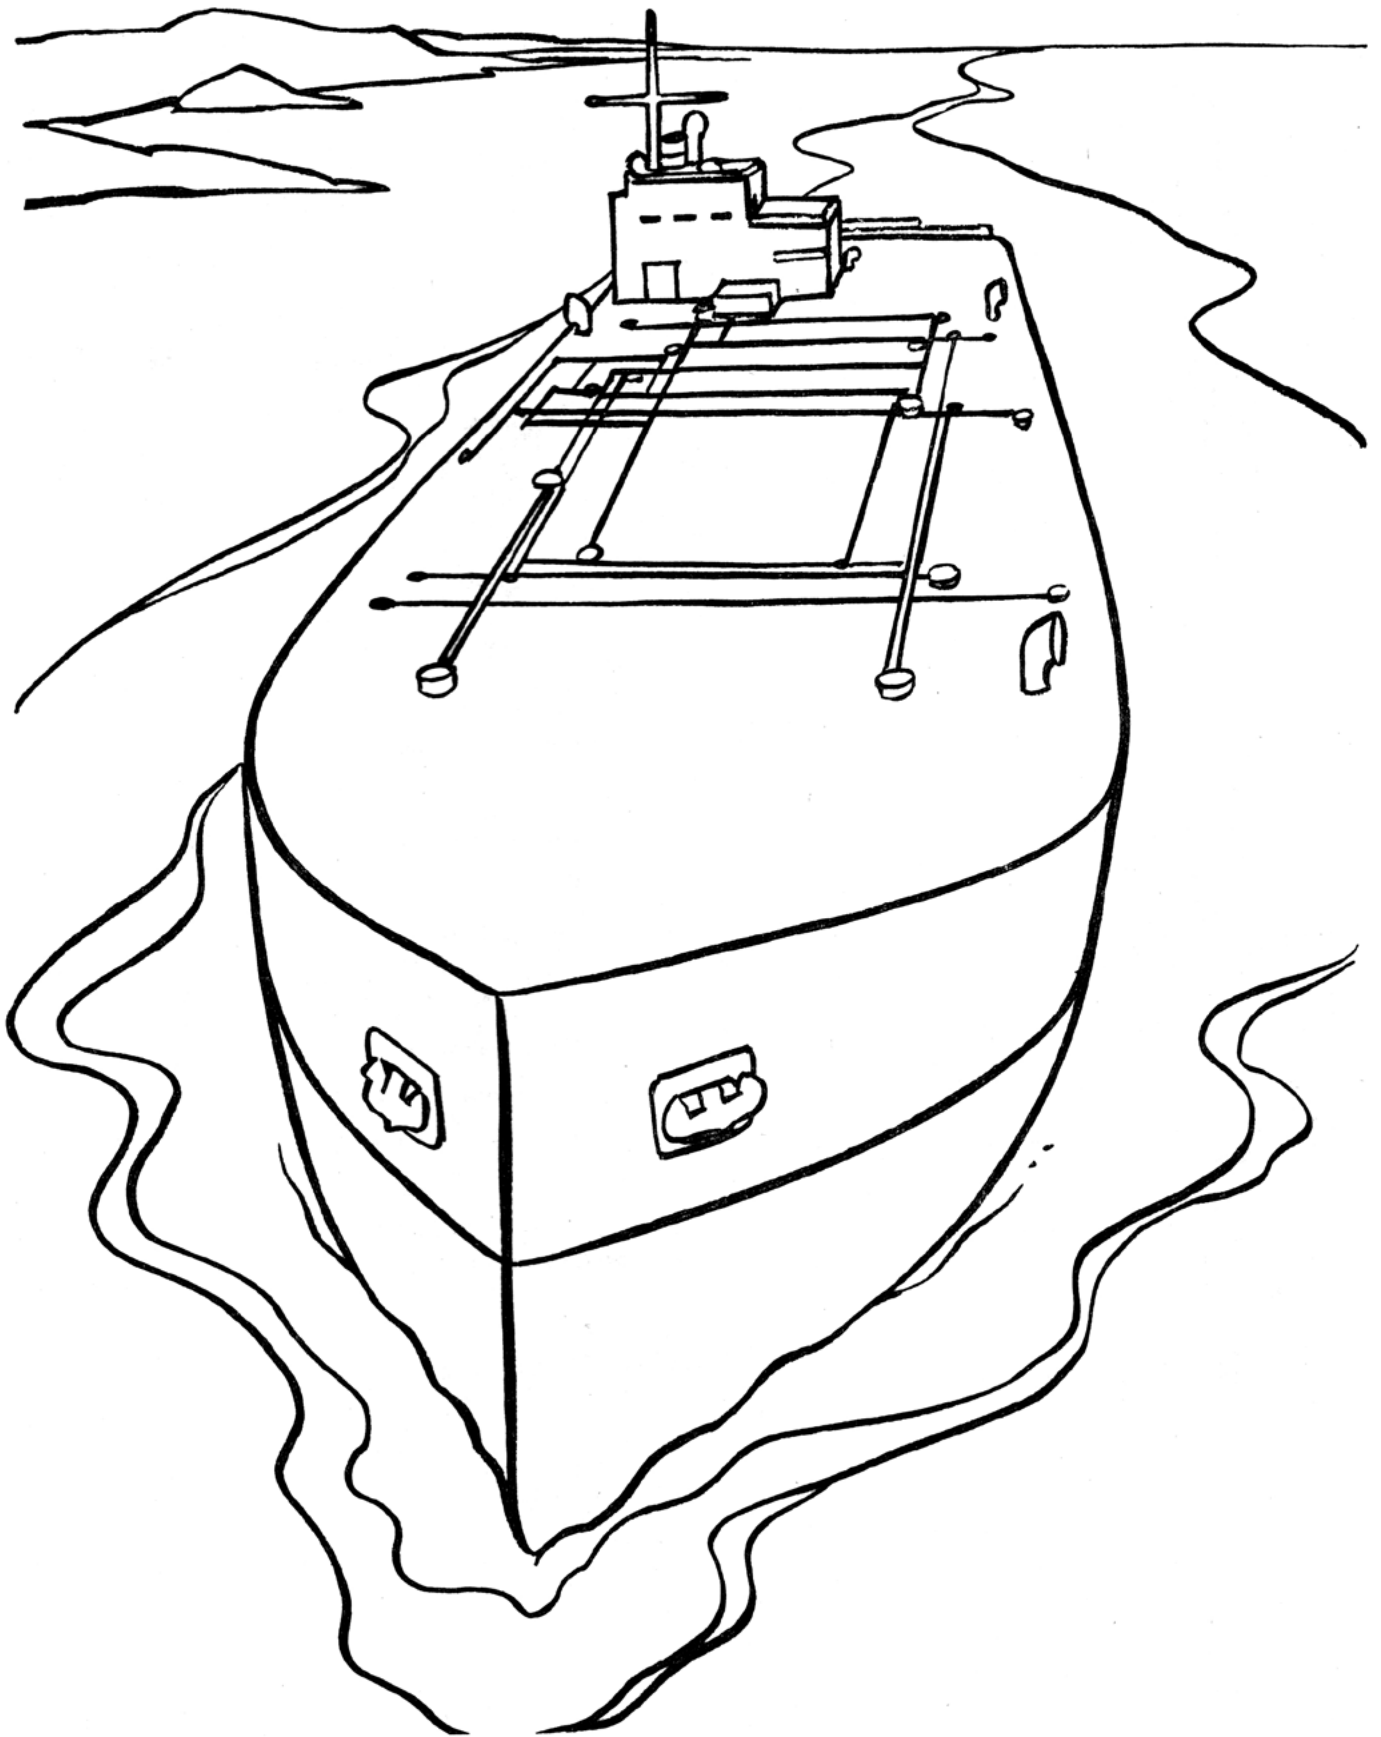

Suddenly a volcano erupts. . .

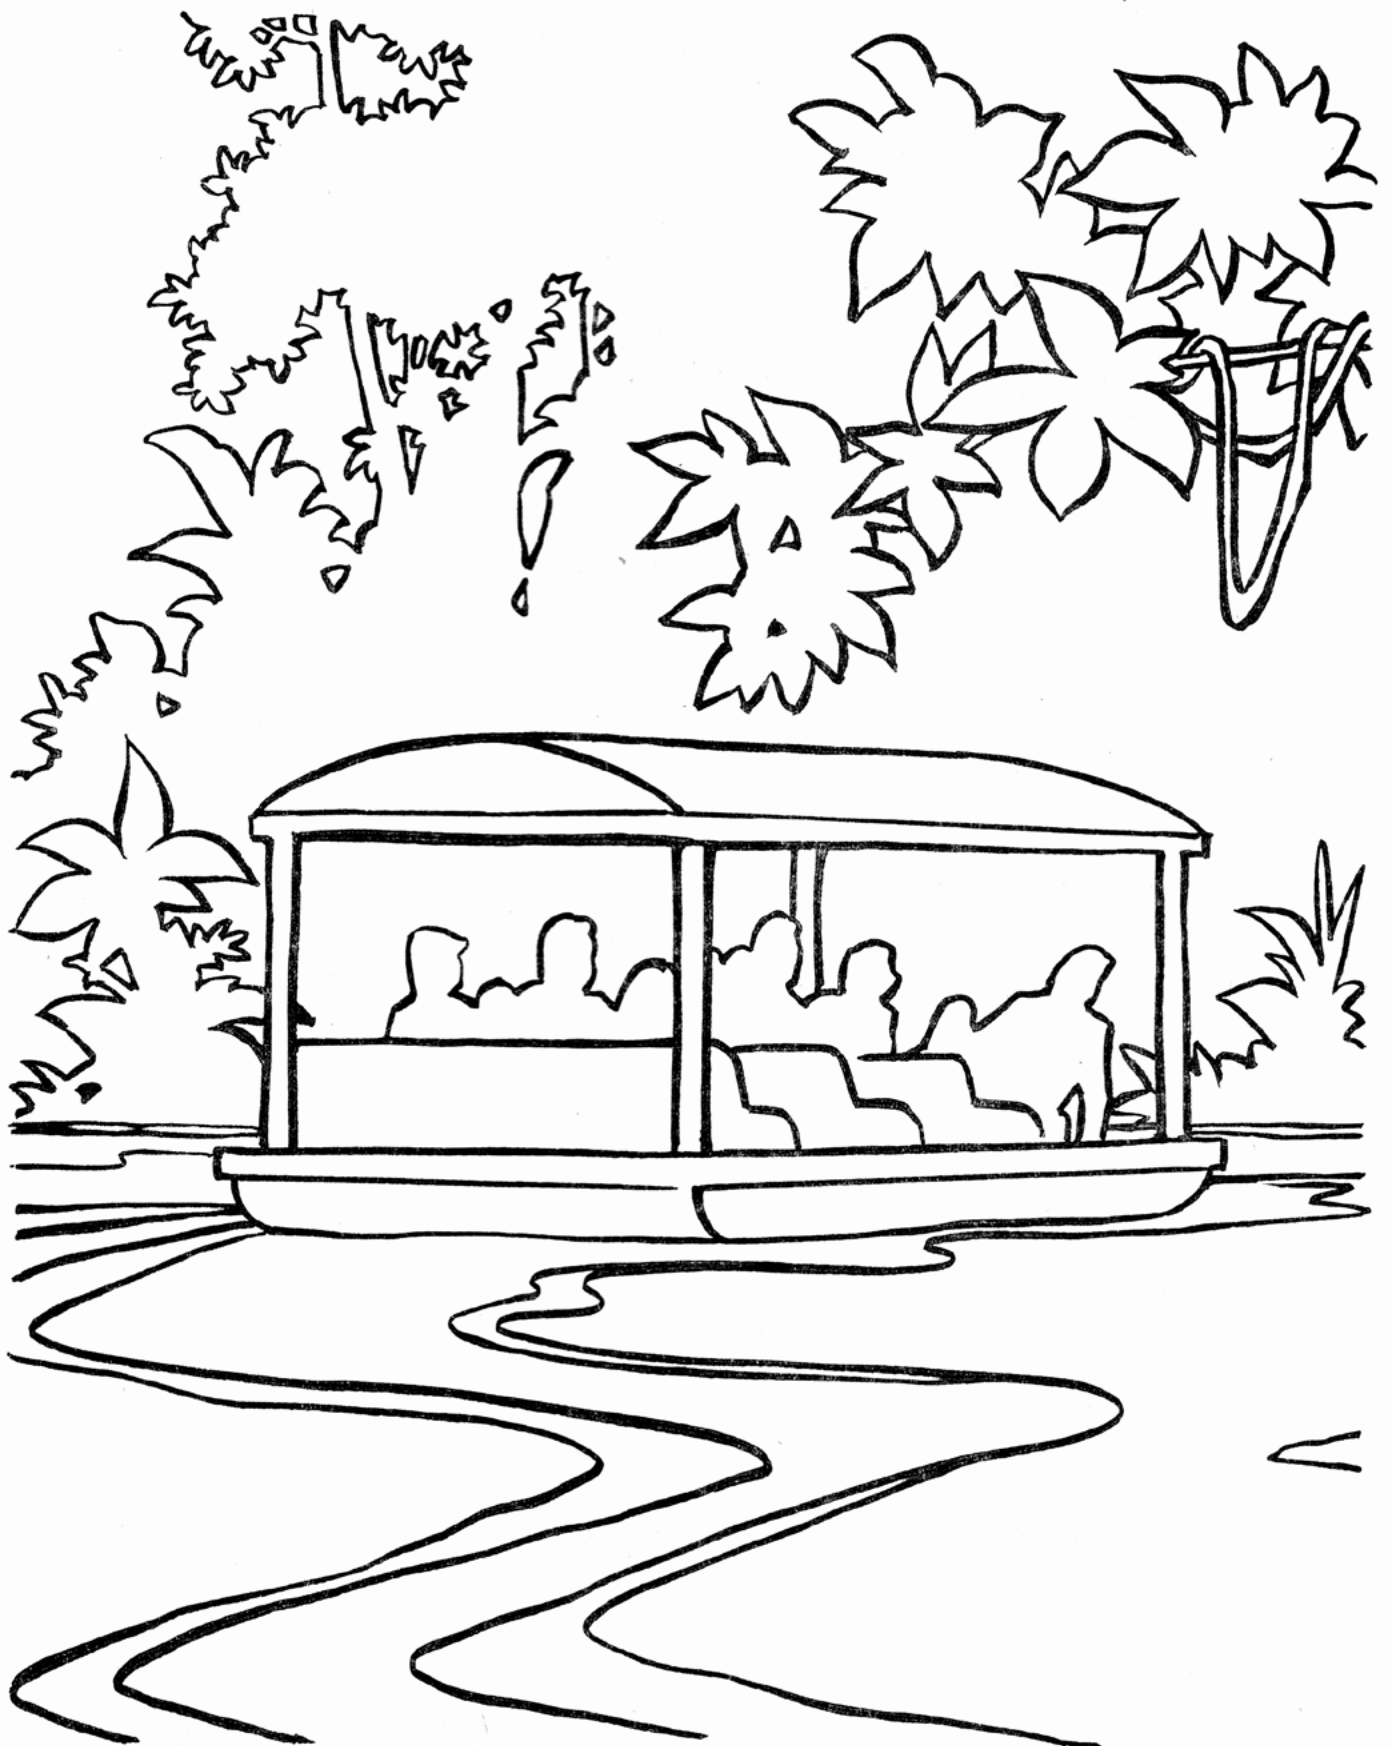

. . .and the Age of Dinosaurs is over.

Workers build the Alaskan Pipeline.

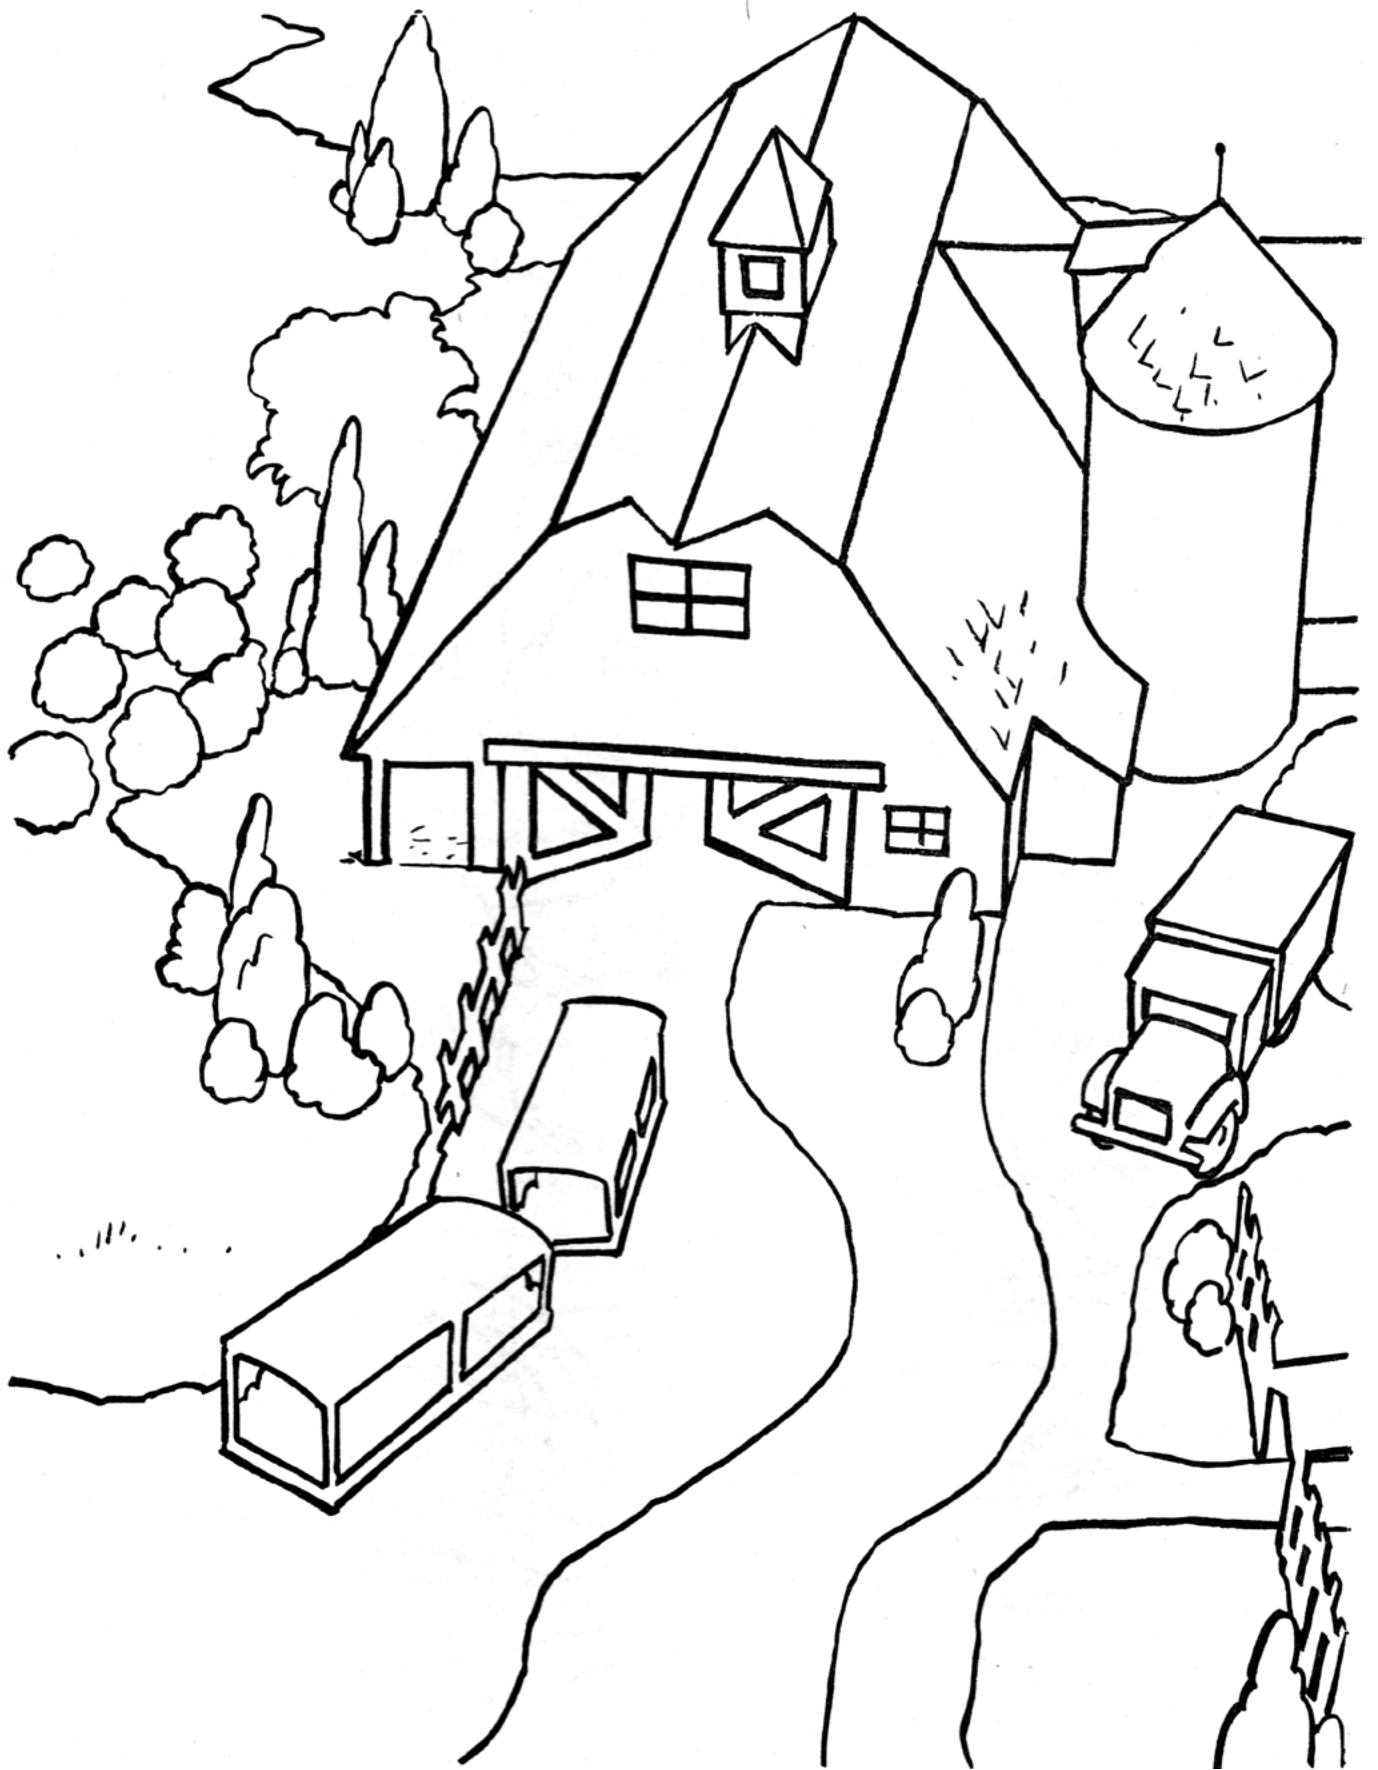

A super tanker carries oil across the ocean.

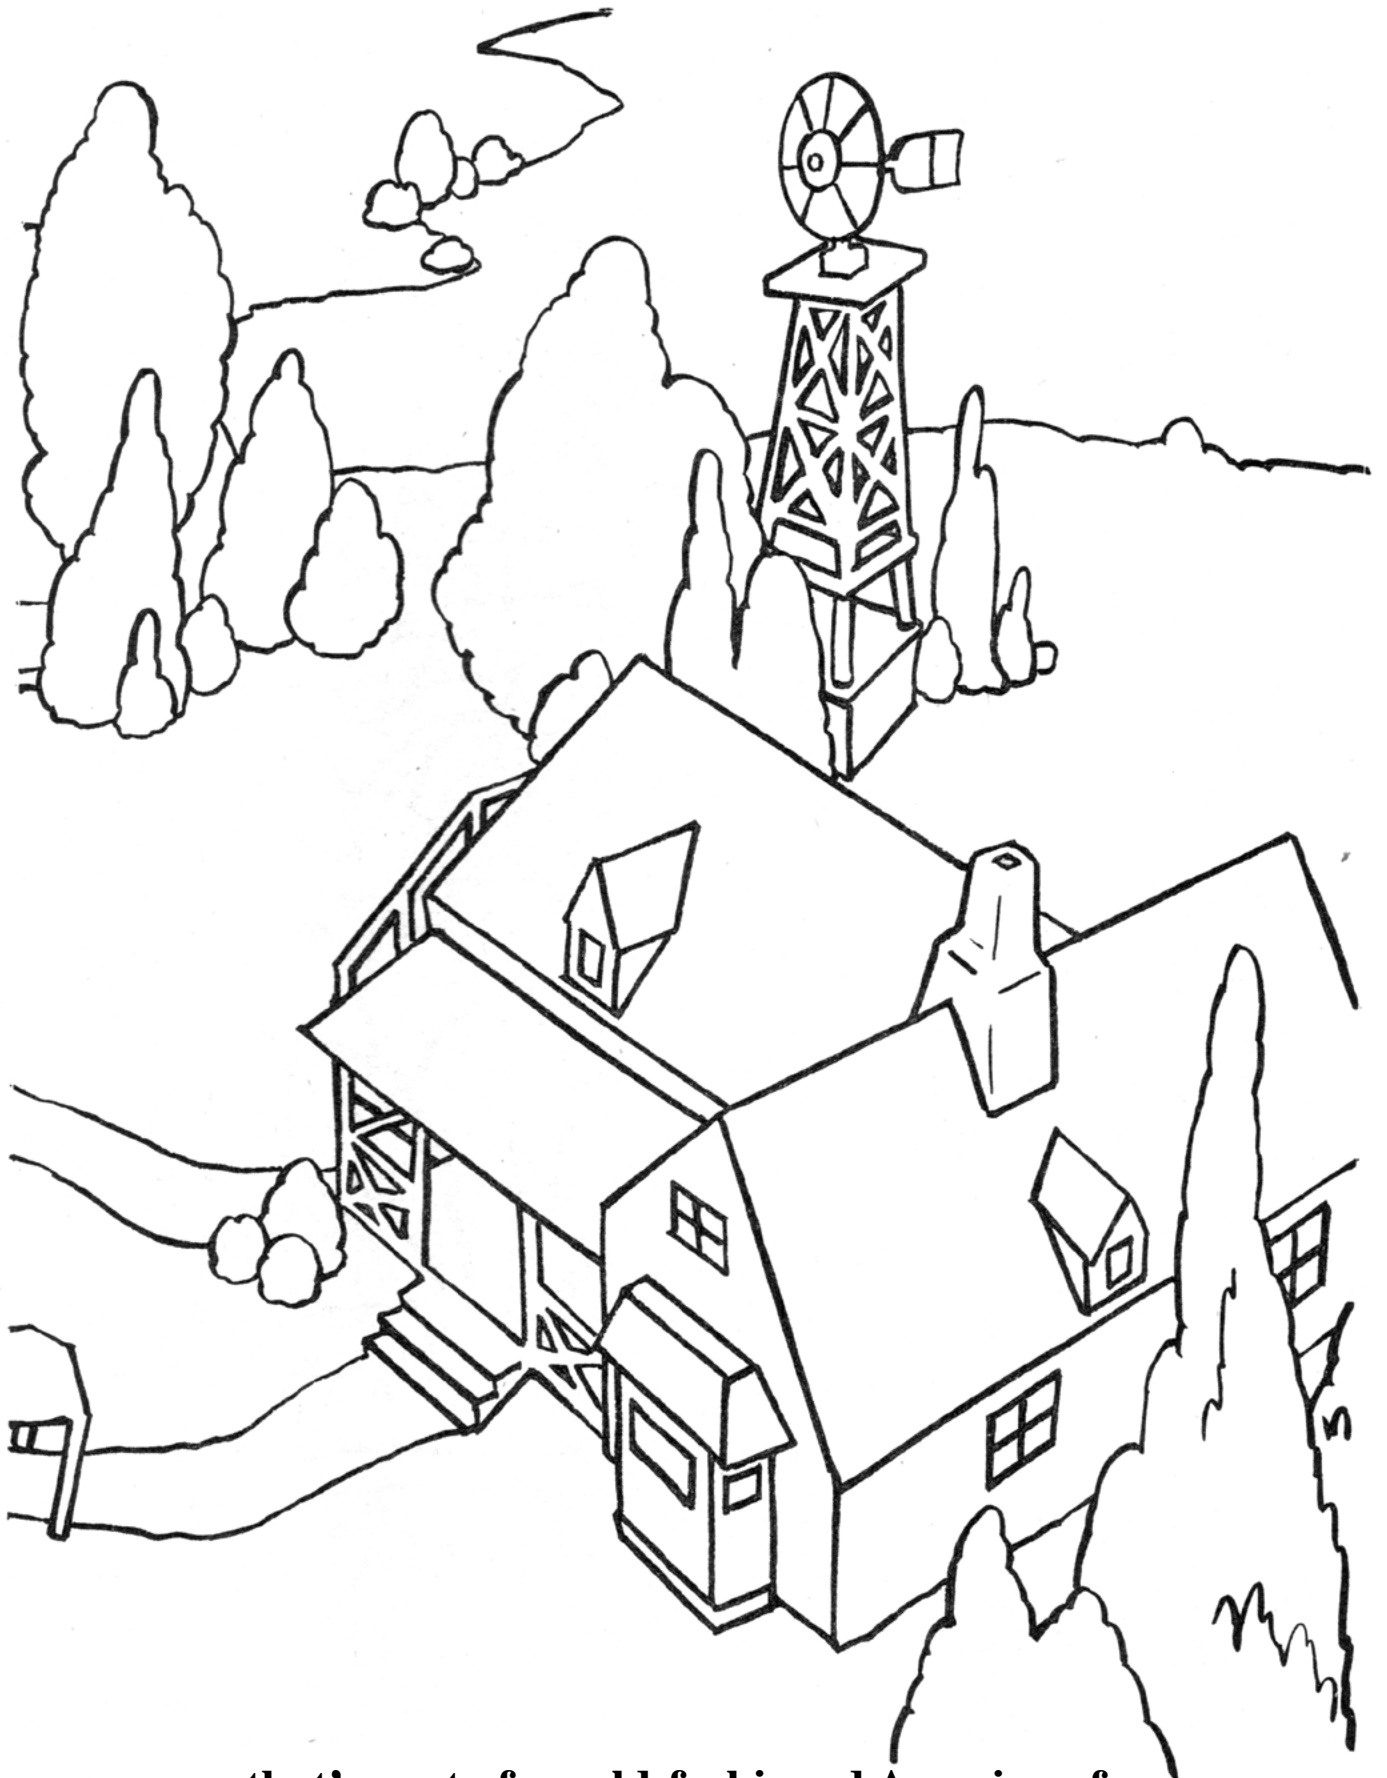

In the Land Pavilion, visitors take a boat. . .

. . .through a tropical rain forest.

The boat goes right through a barn. . .

...that's part of an old-fashioned American farm.

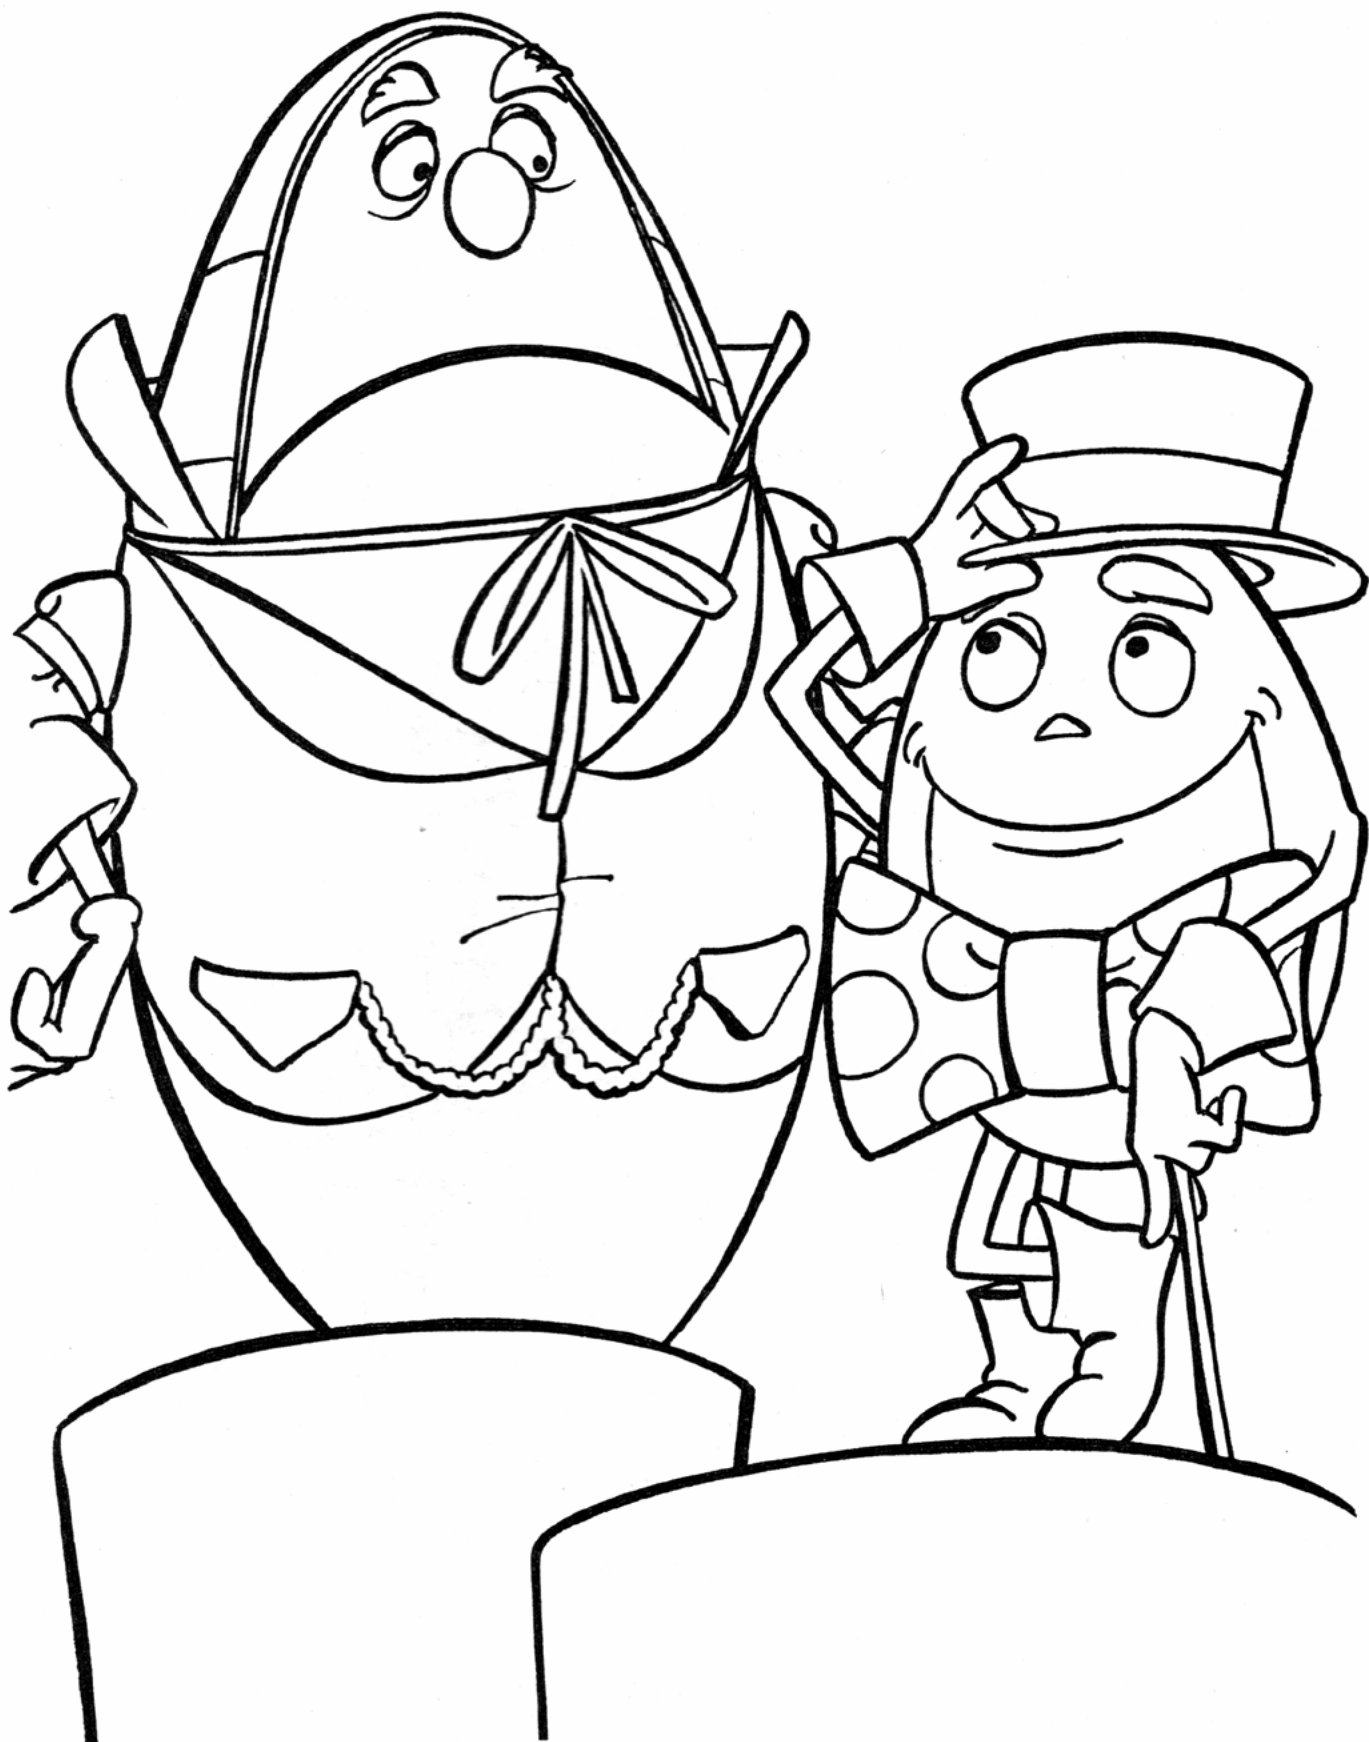

The Land Pavilion also shows the future of agricultural technology.

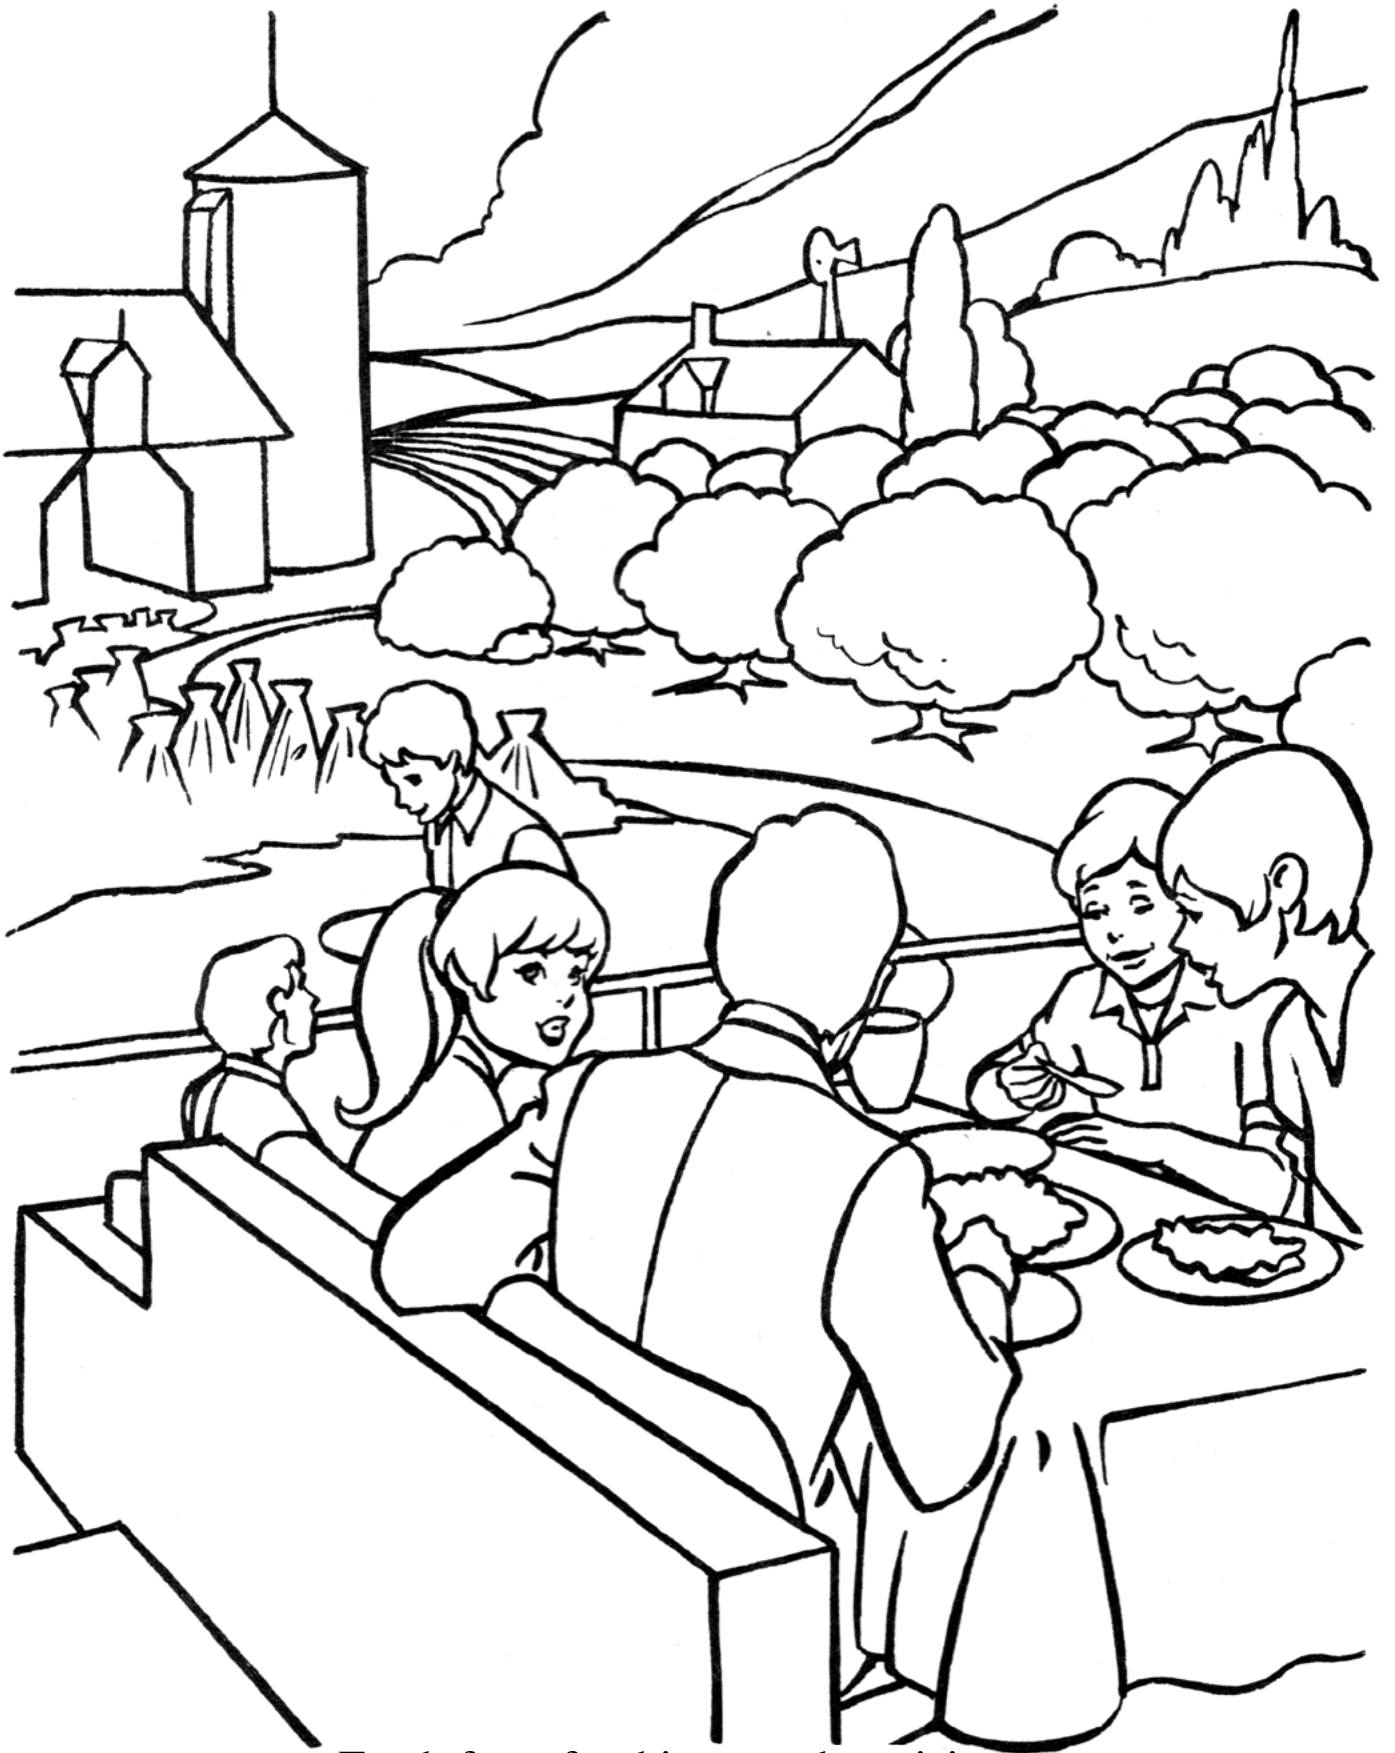

Bonnie Appetit is the star of KITCHEN KABARET.

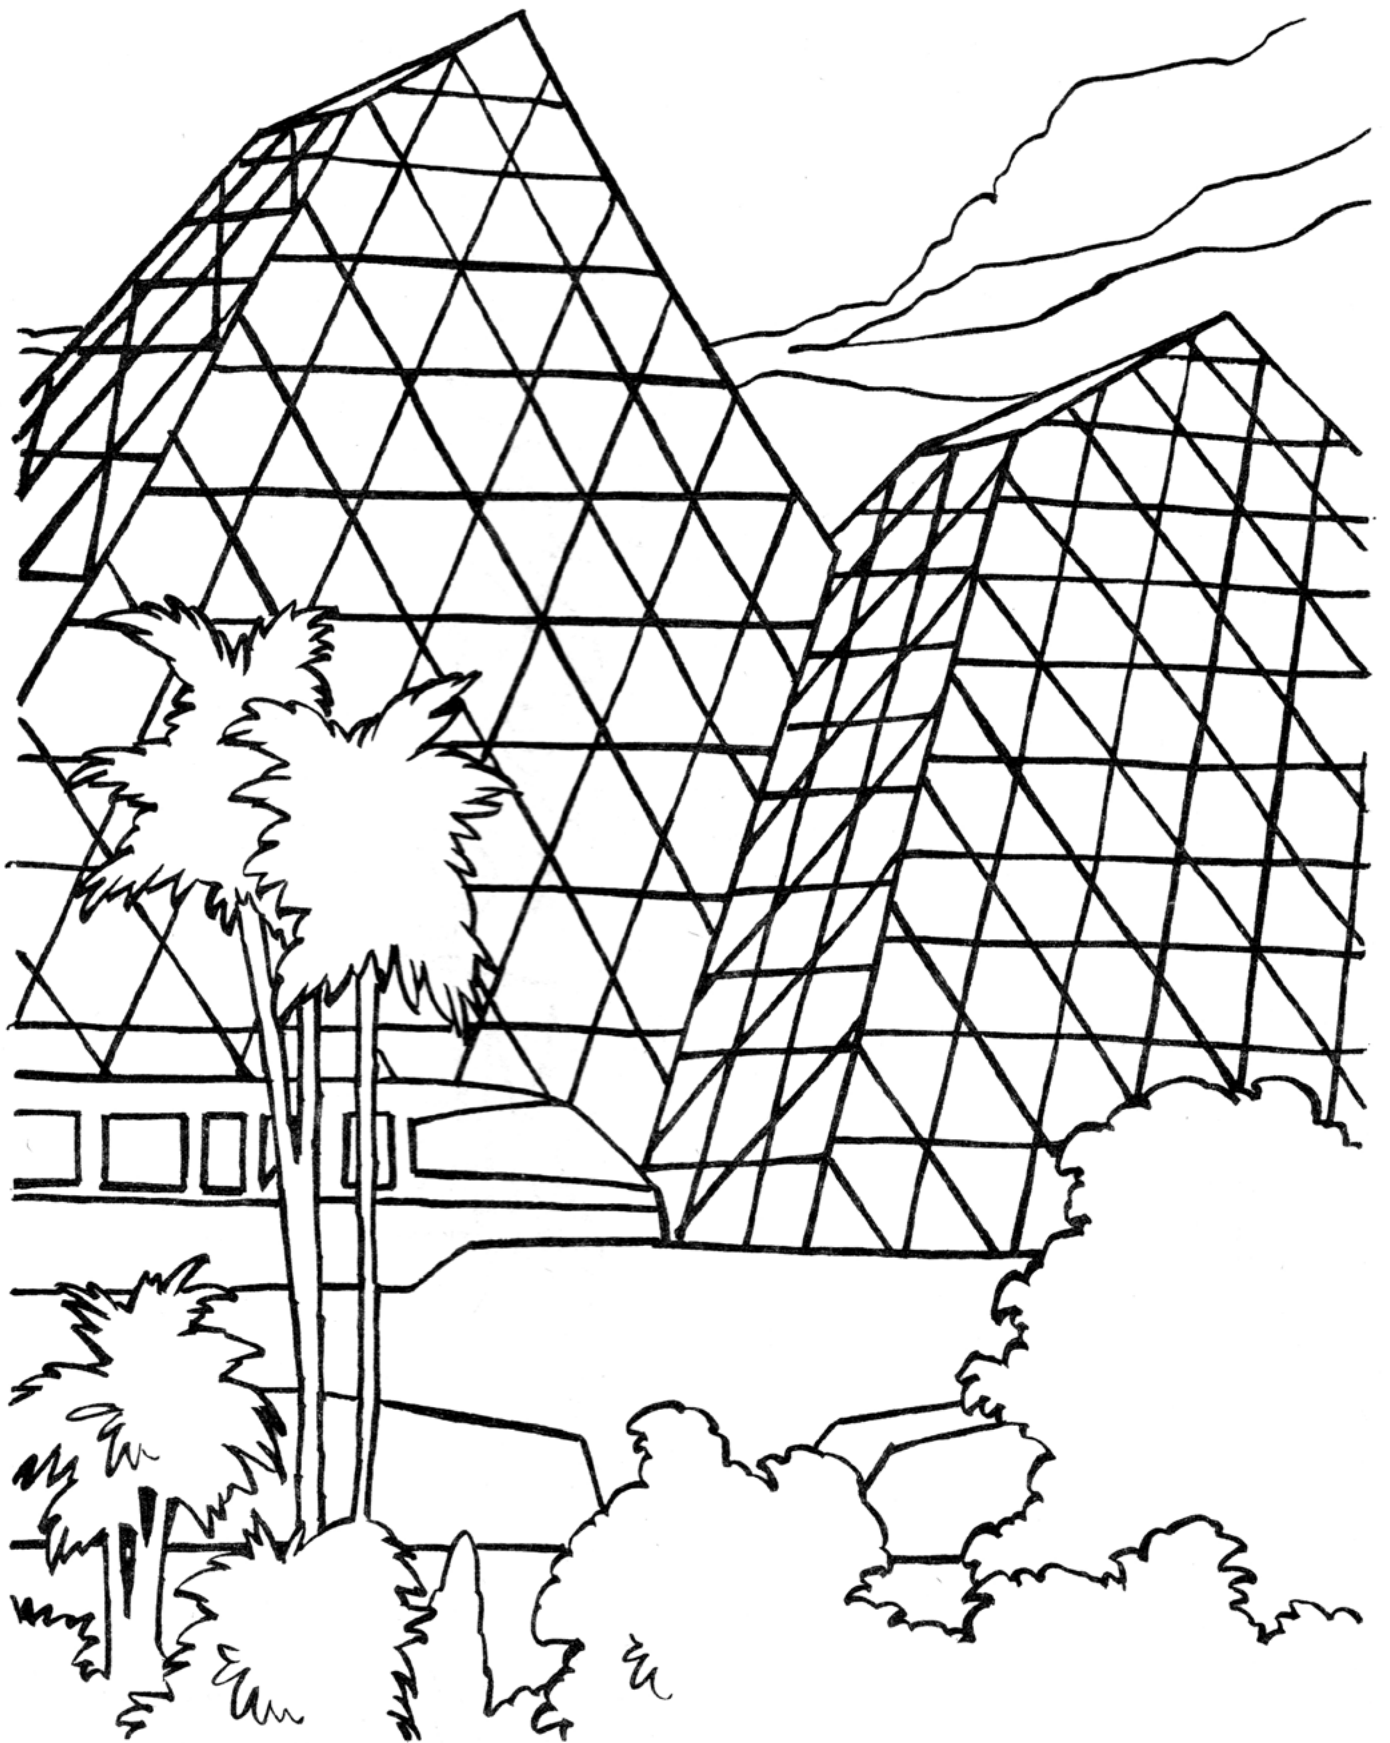

The Colander Combo and the Kitchen Krackpots
sing about good nutrition.

Ham 'n Eggz do a comedy routine.

Fresh farm food is served to visitors.

Here we enter a Journey into Imagination.

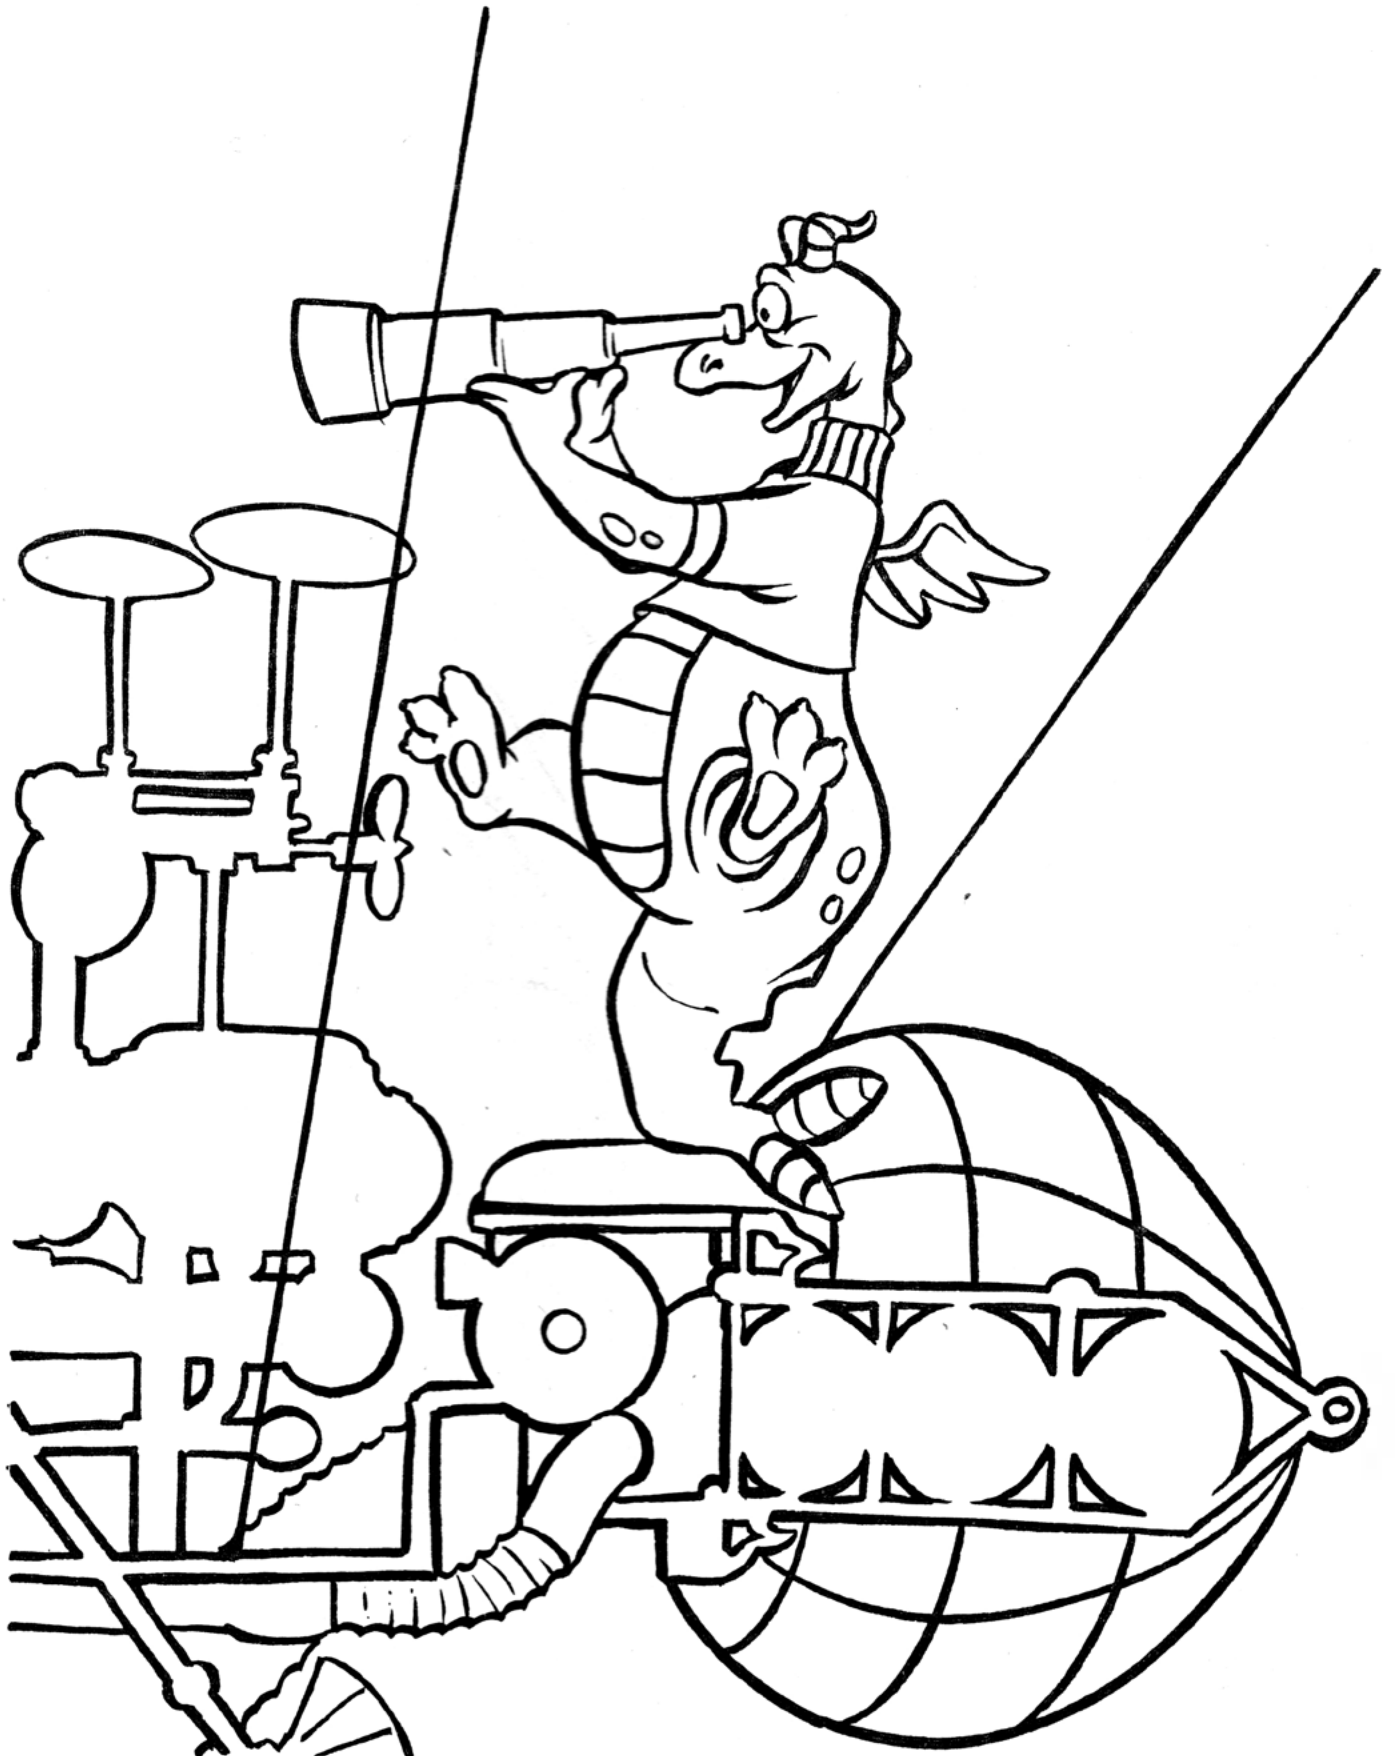

Dreamfinder holds his little friend, Figment.

They take visitors beyond the limits of time and space.

The Dream Vehicle is a flying contraption. . .

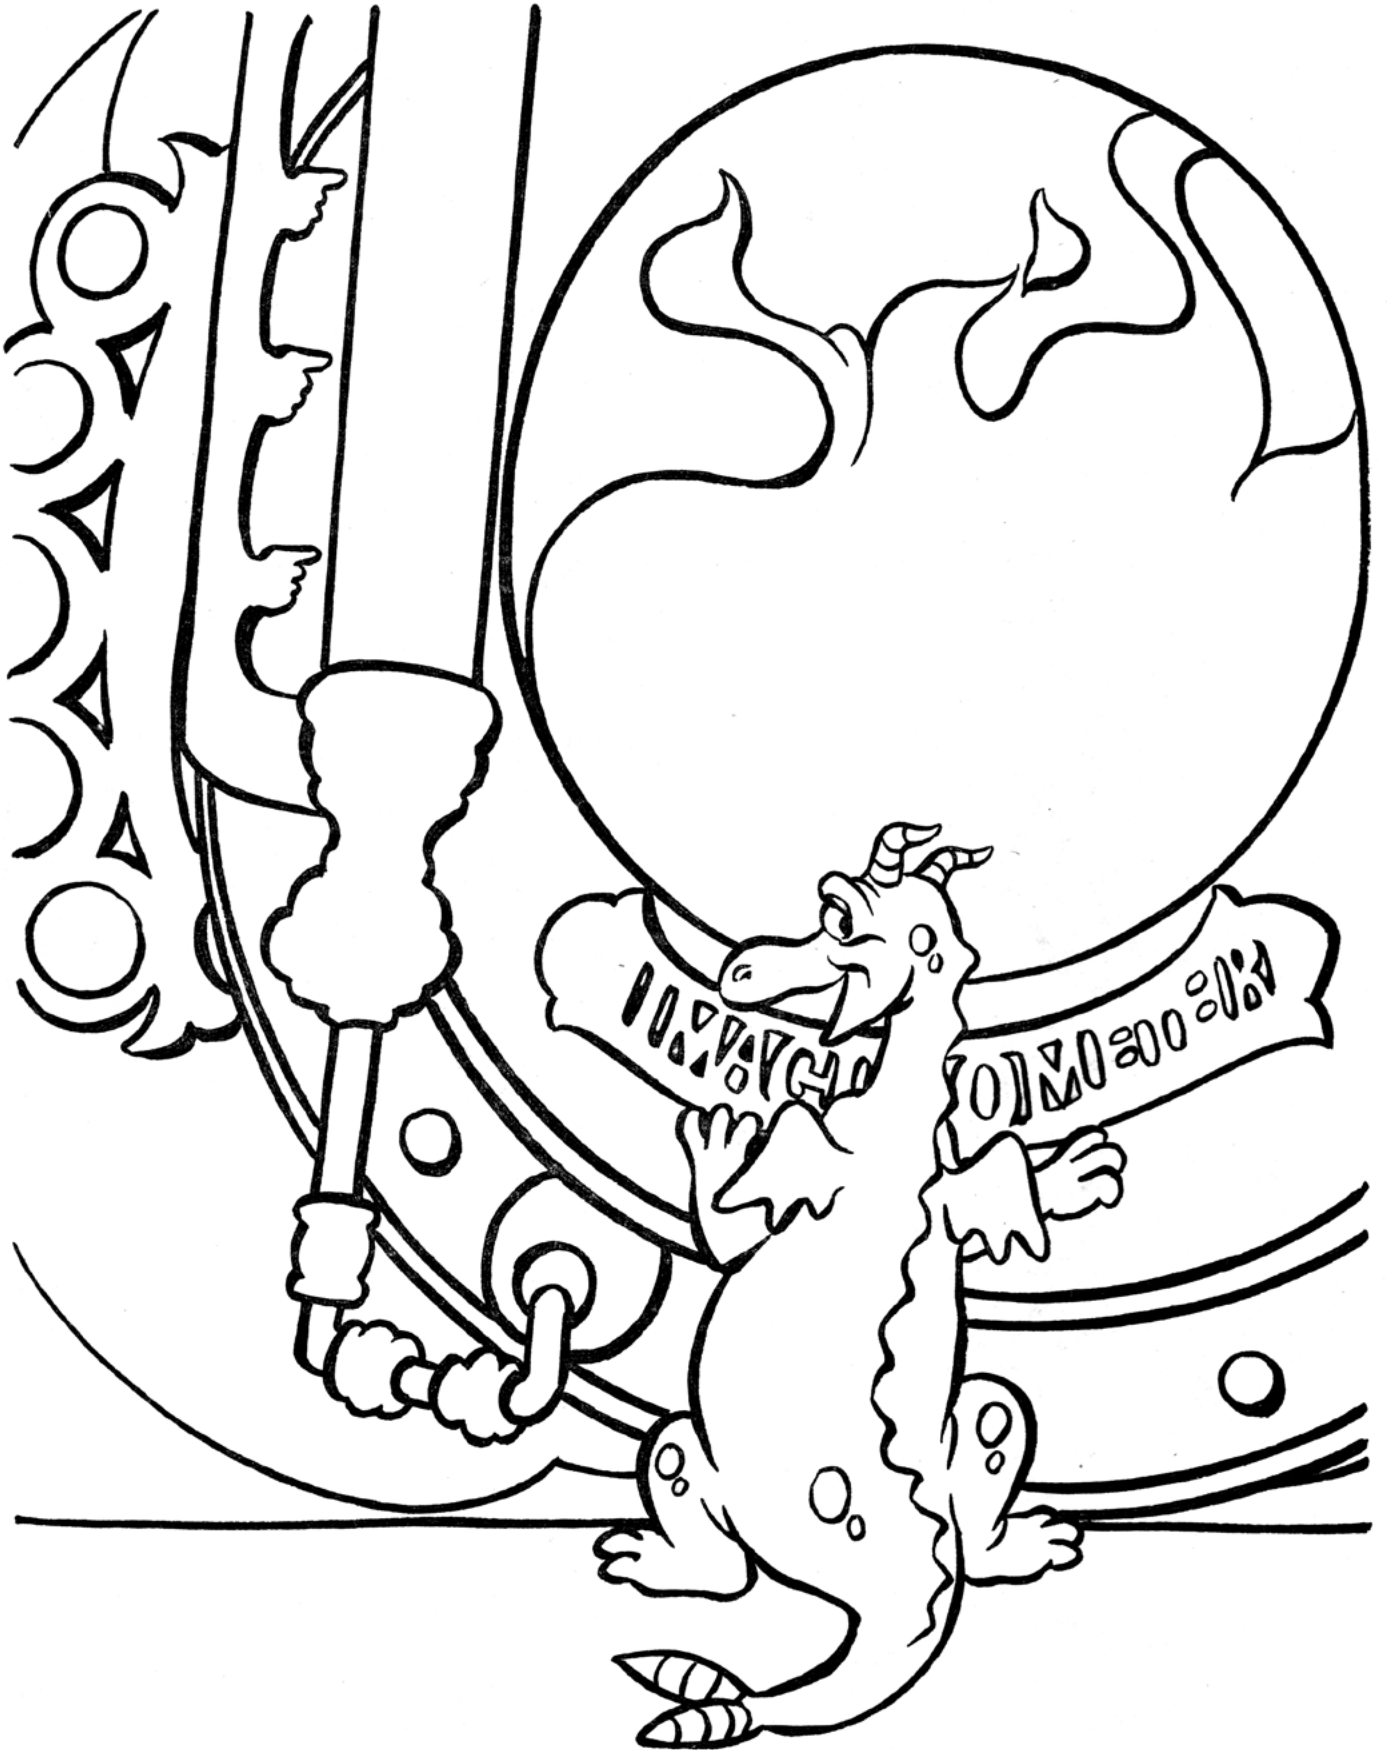

. . .that gathers dreams and ideas from all over.

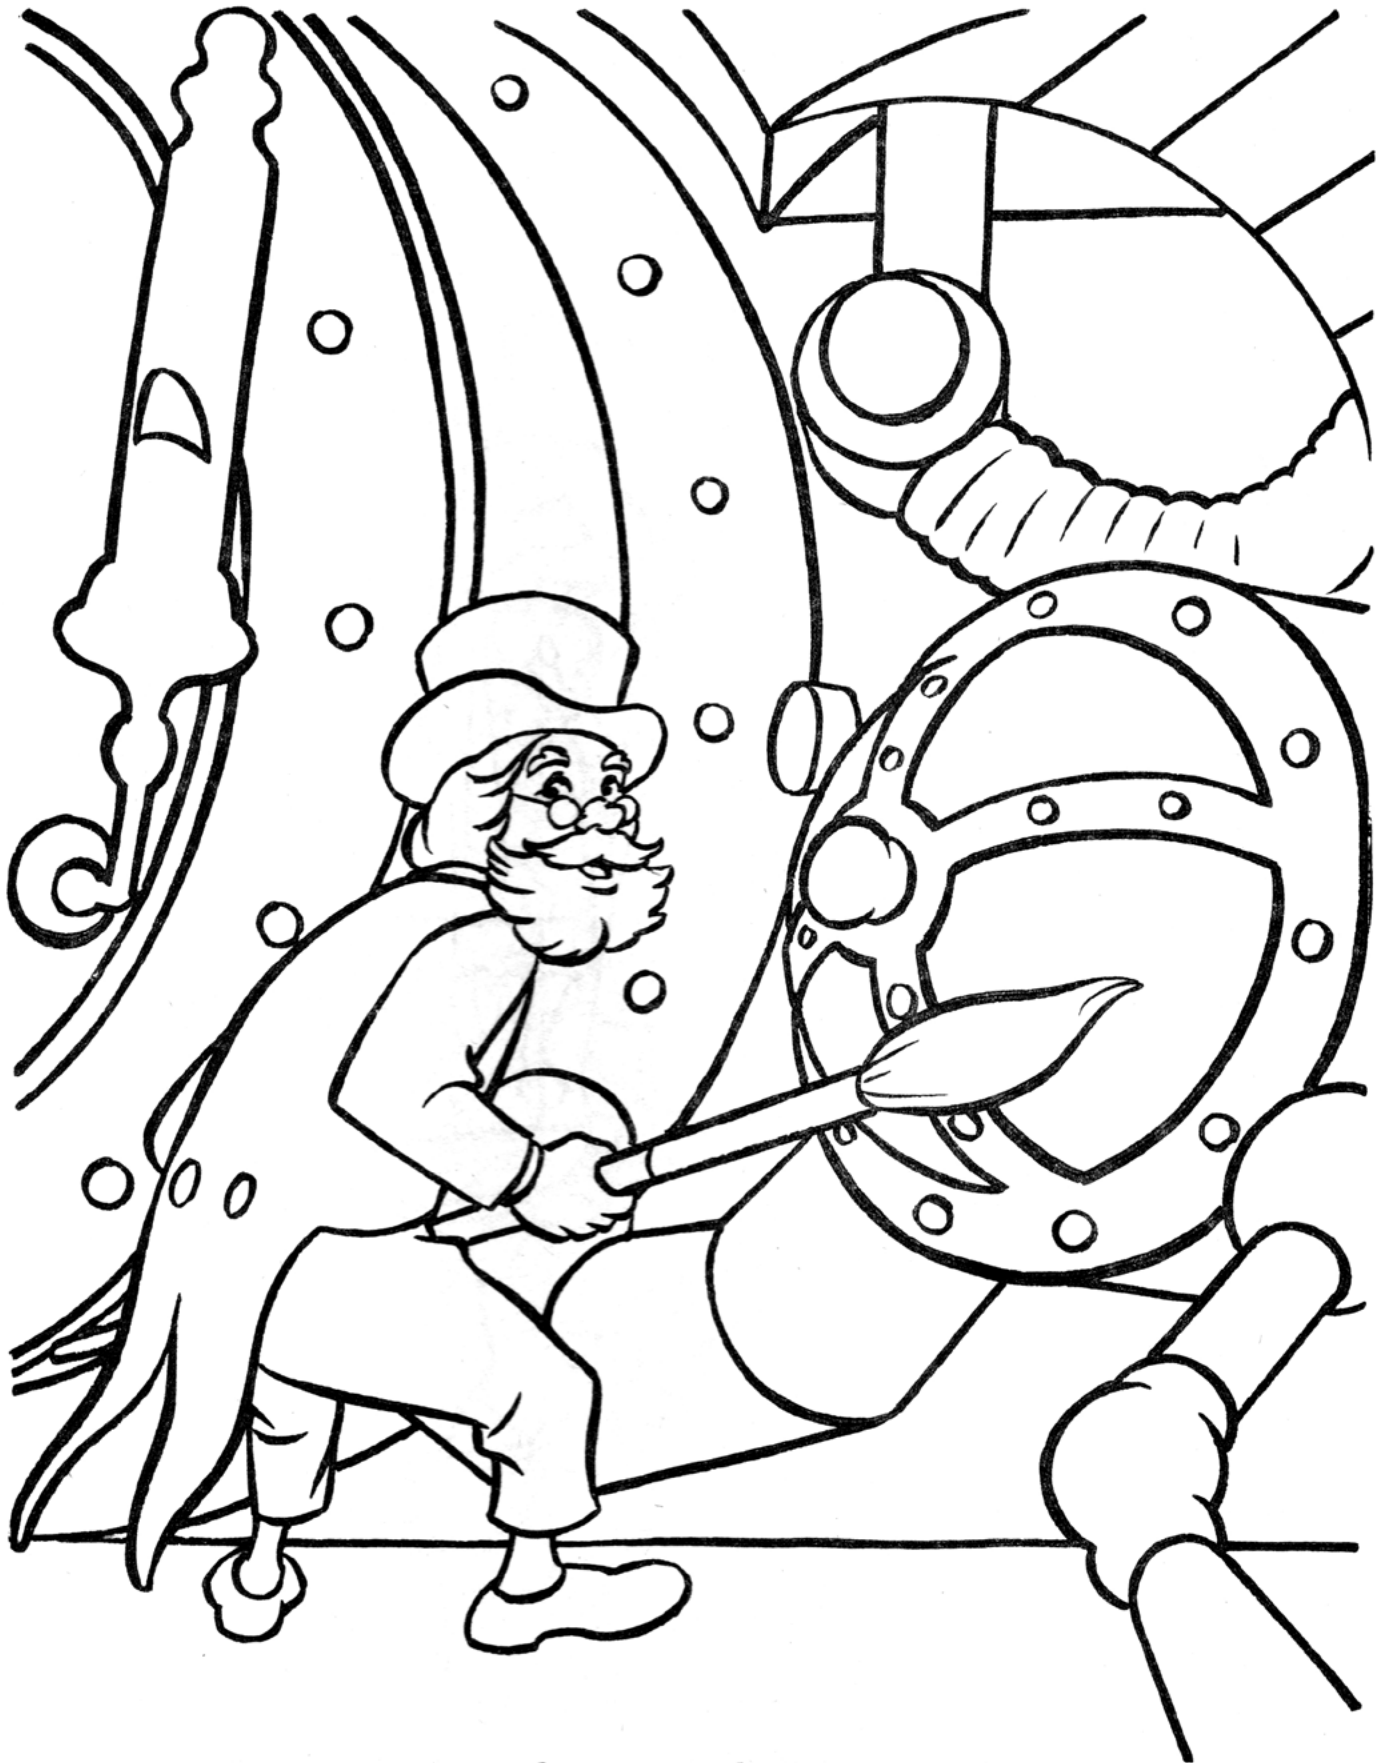

Figment paints a beautiful picture. . .

. . .with a bucket of rainbow colors.

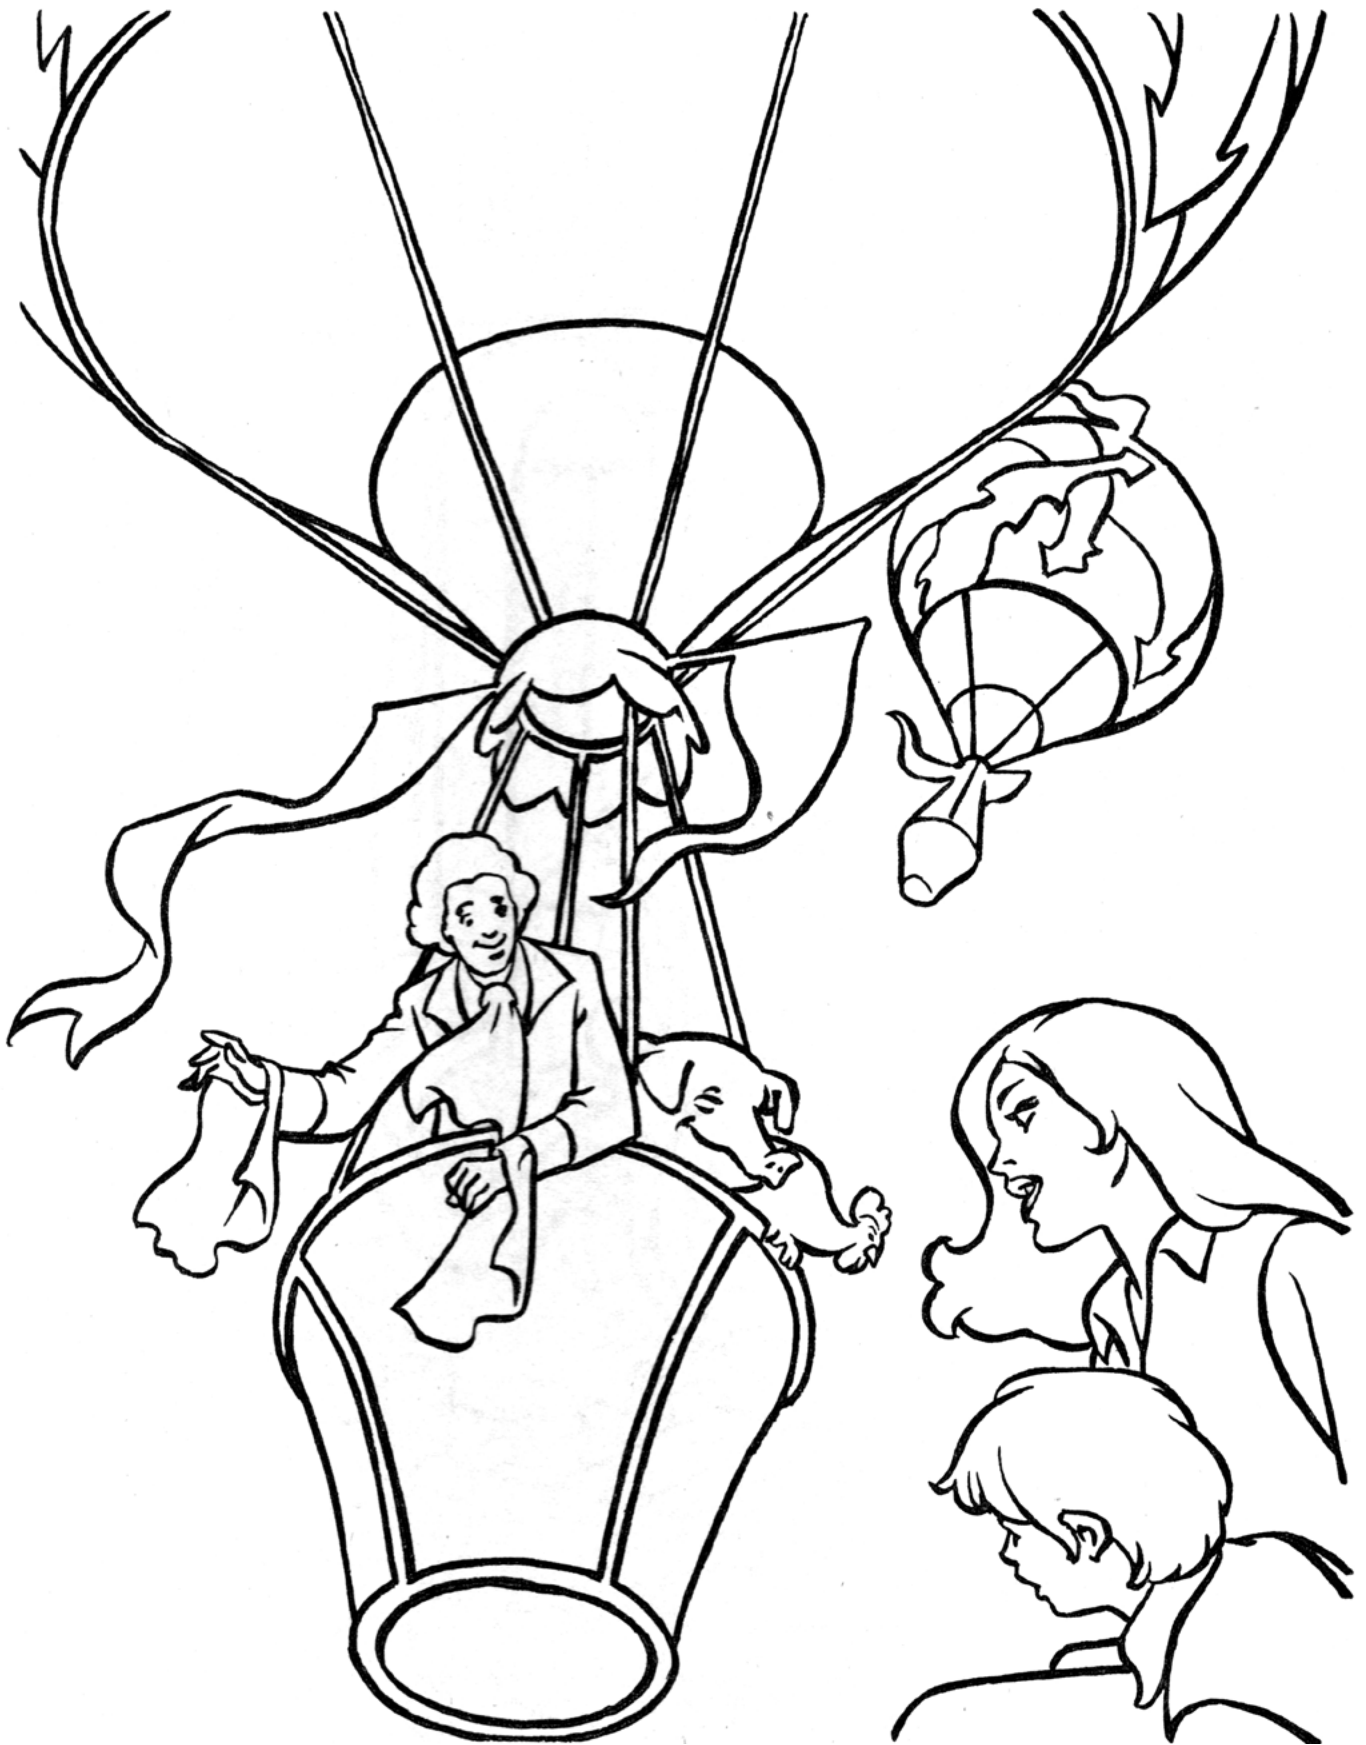

The Imaginometer is a special machine. . .

. . .where dream and ideas are stored.

The inventor of the wheel presents it to the king.

People first flew in a hot-air balloon.

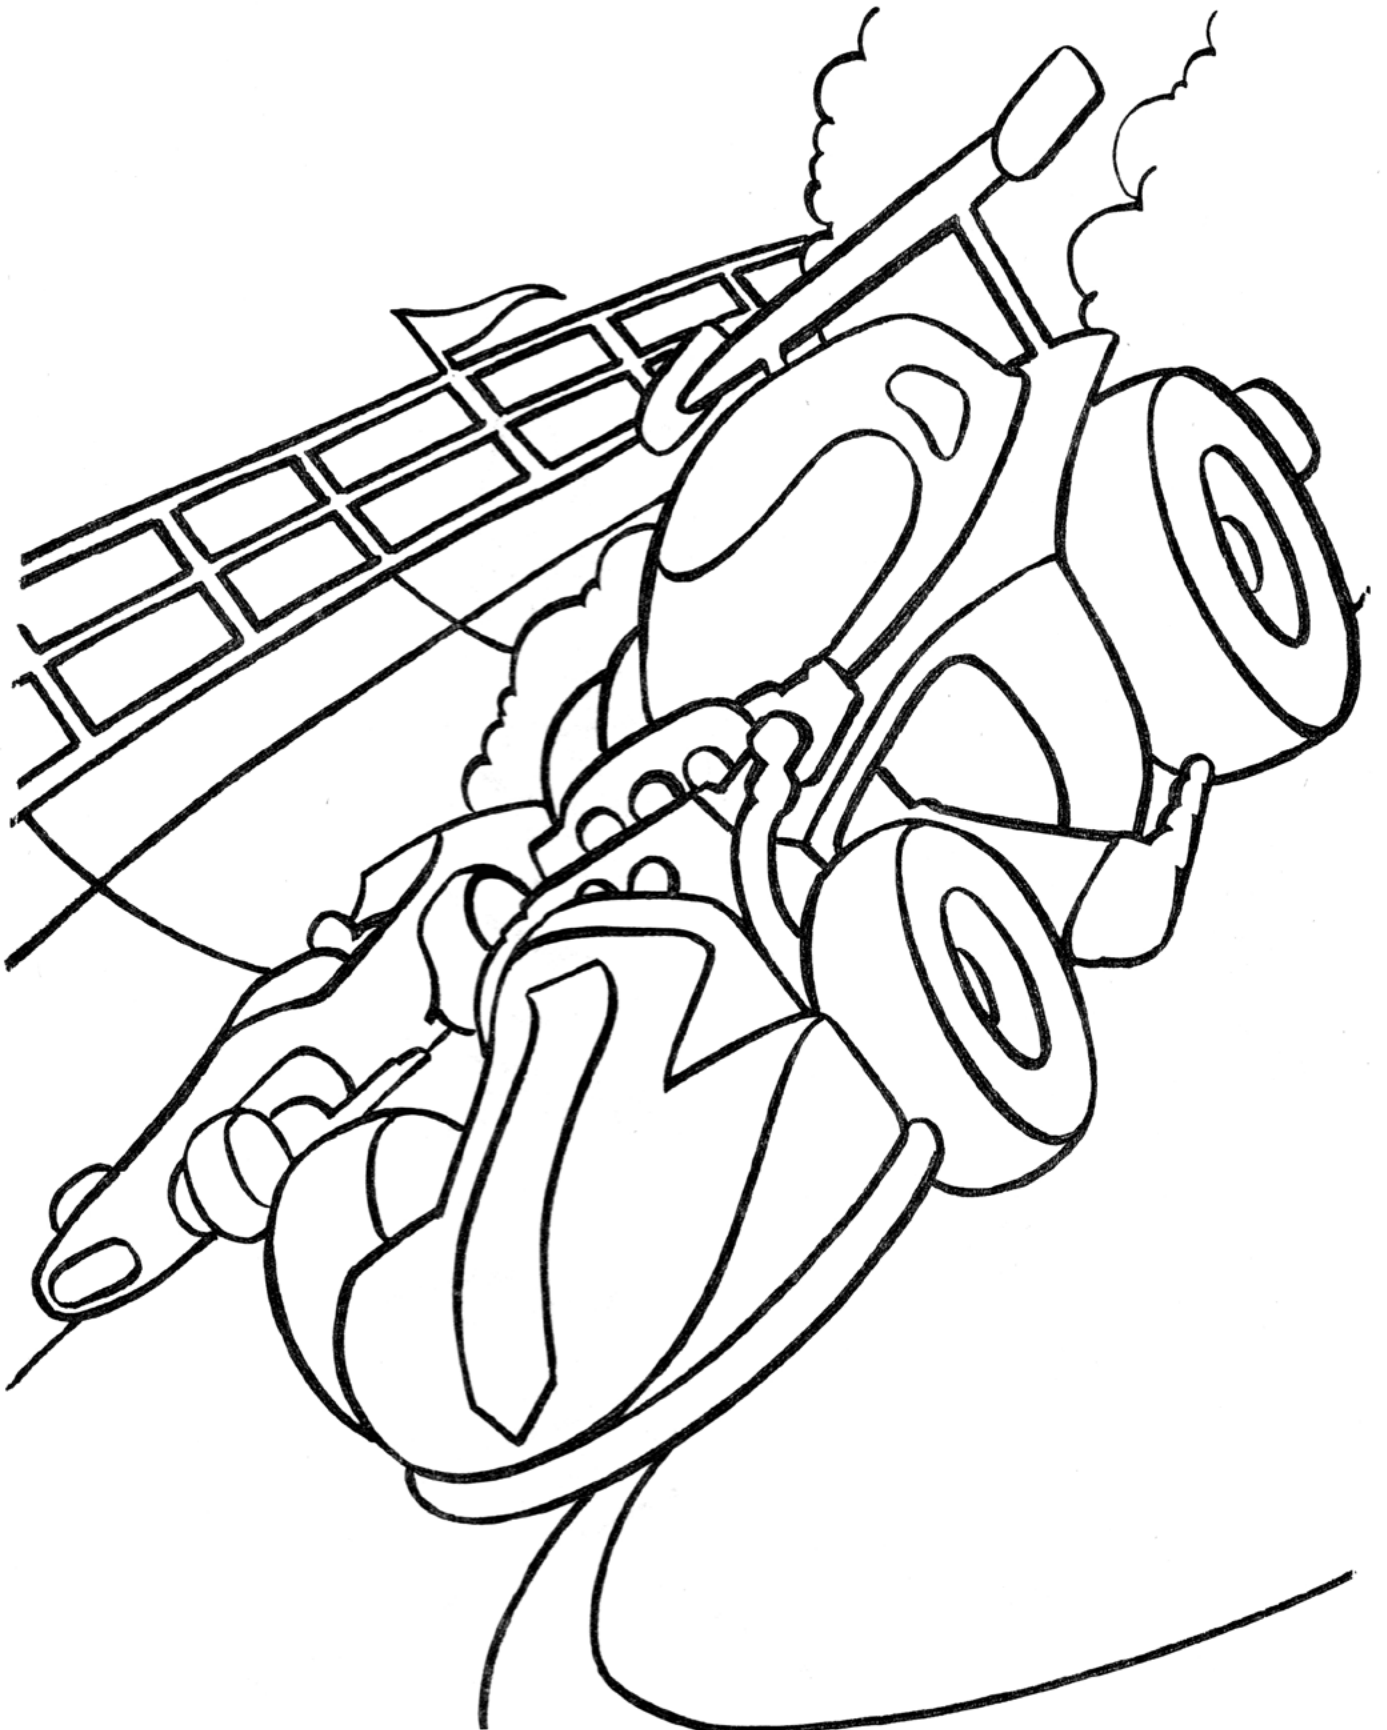

The world's first traffic jam. . .

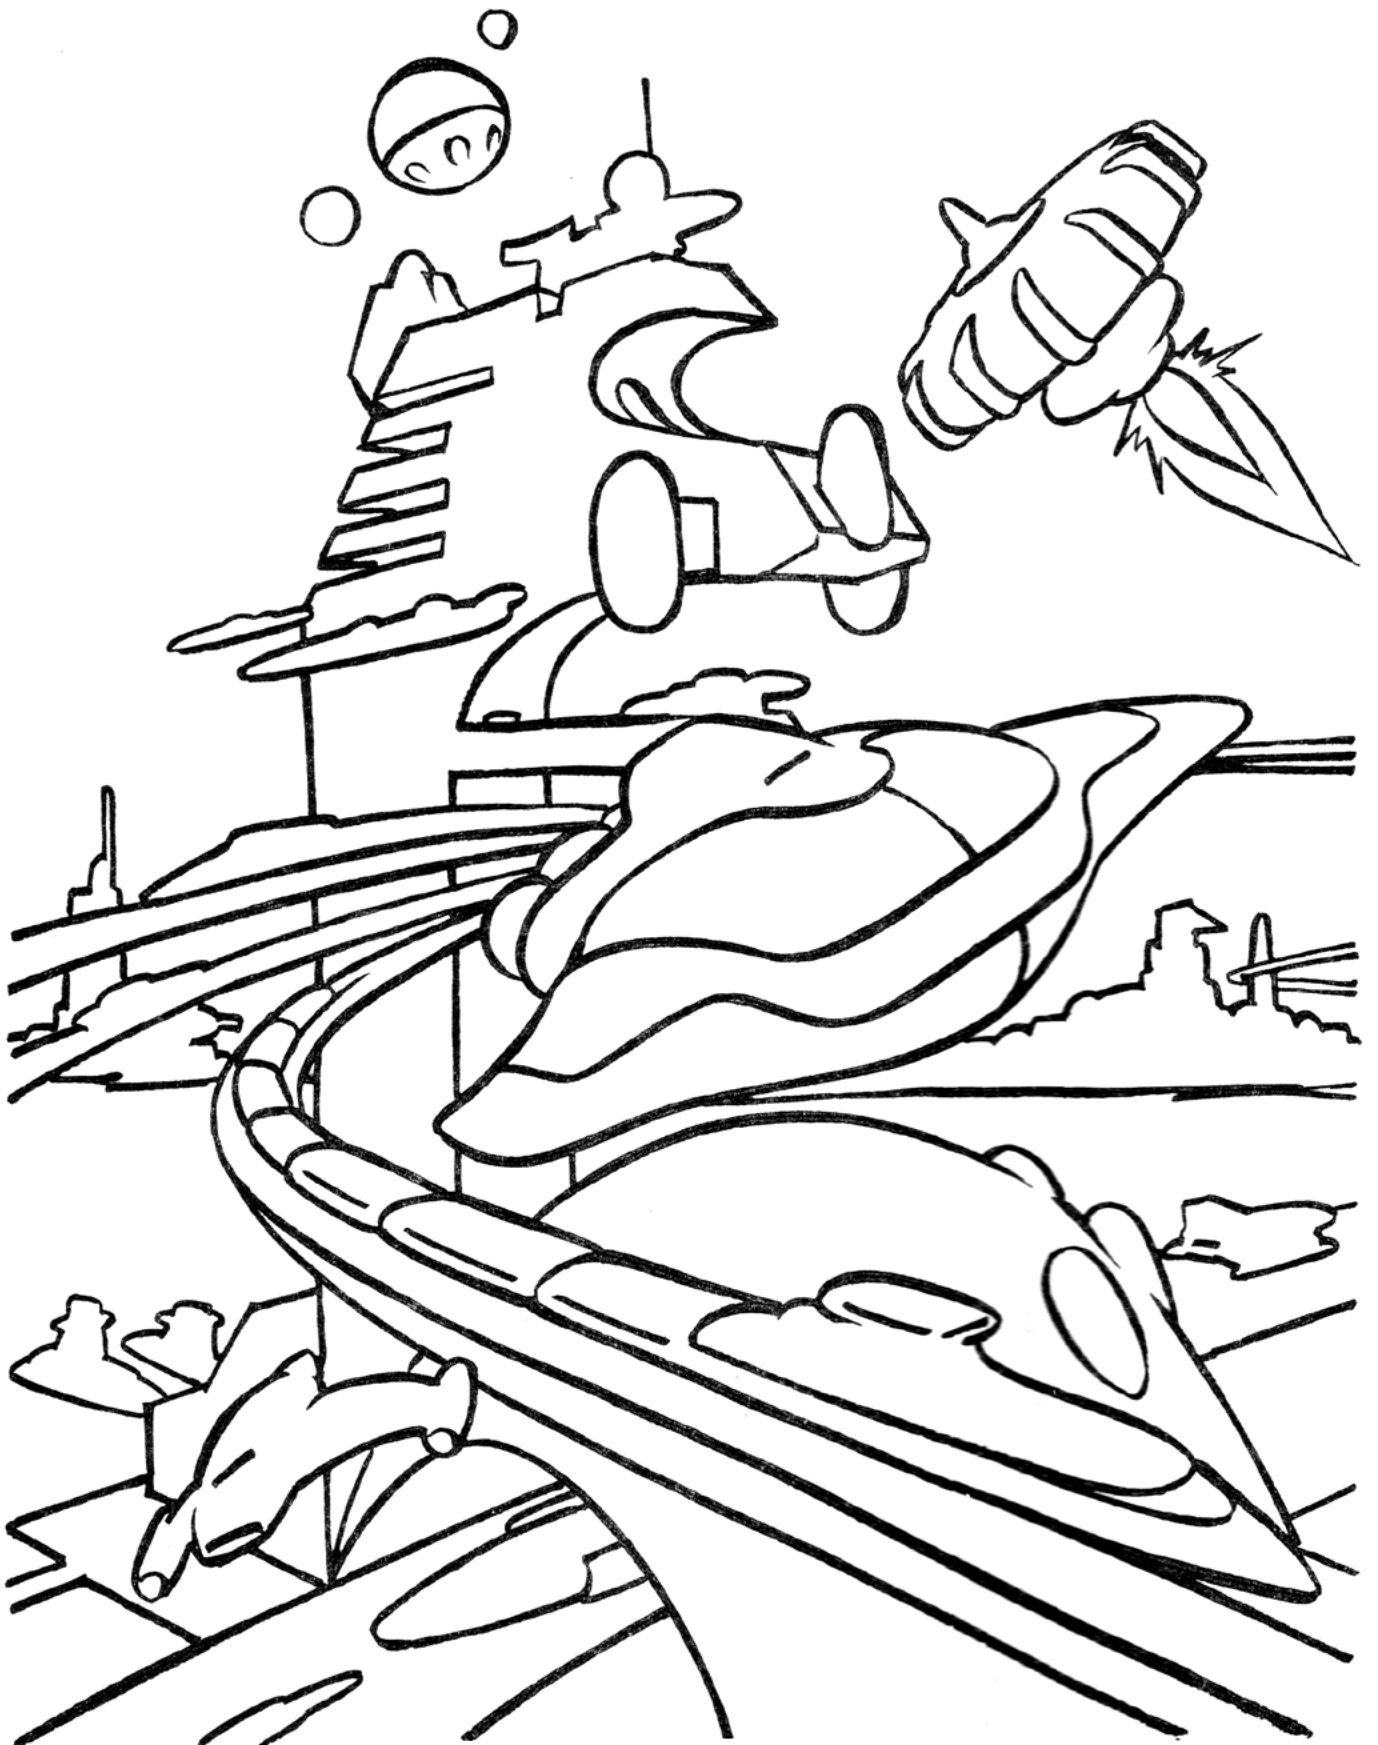

. . .was a terrible mess.

The automobile replaced the horse and buggy.

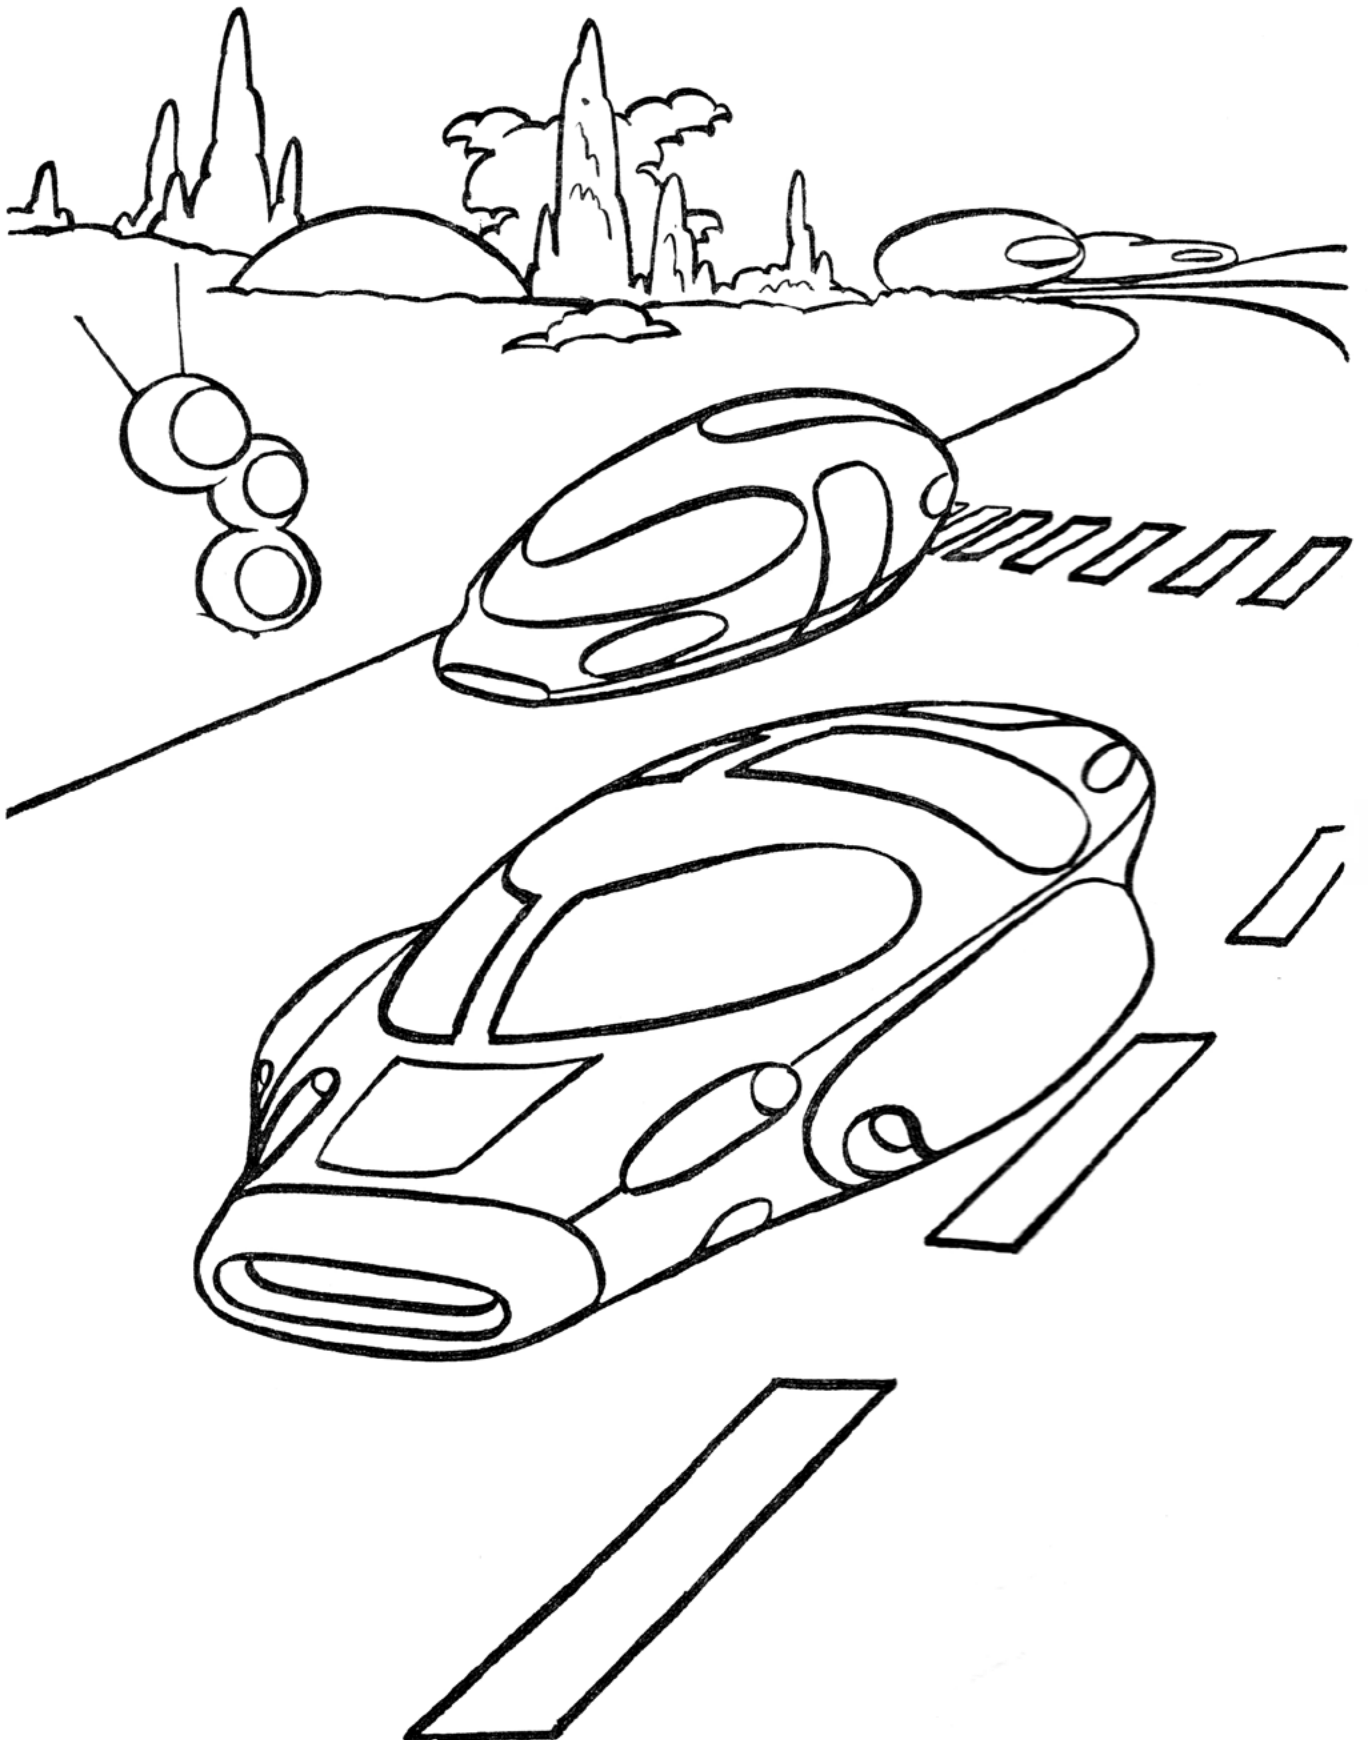

A modern race car speeds down the track.

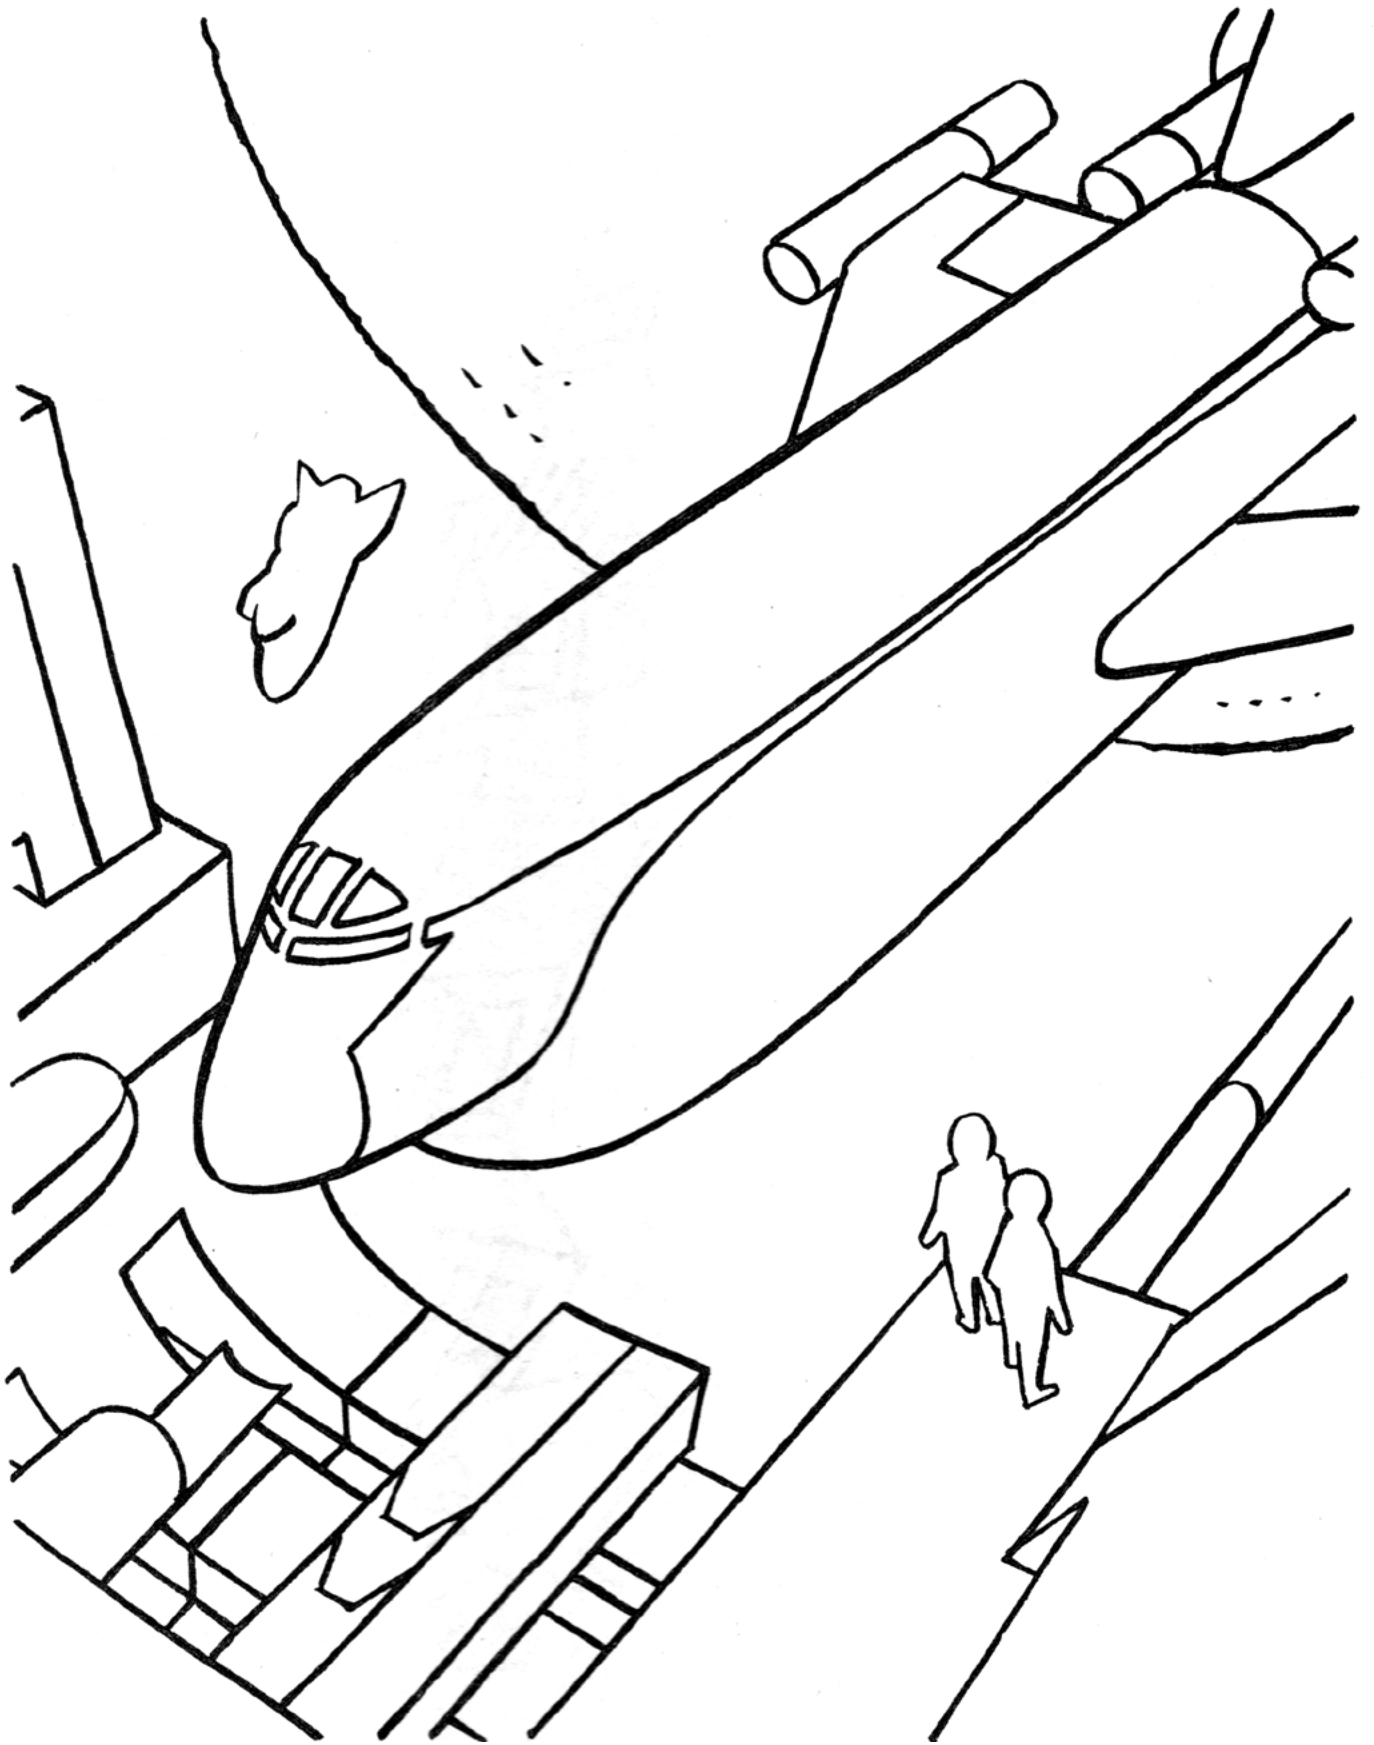

In this city of the future. . .

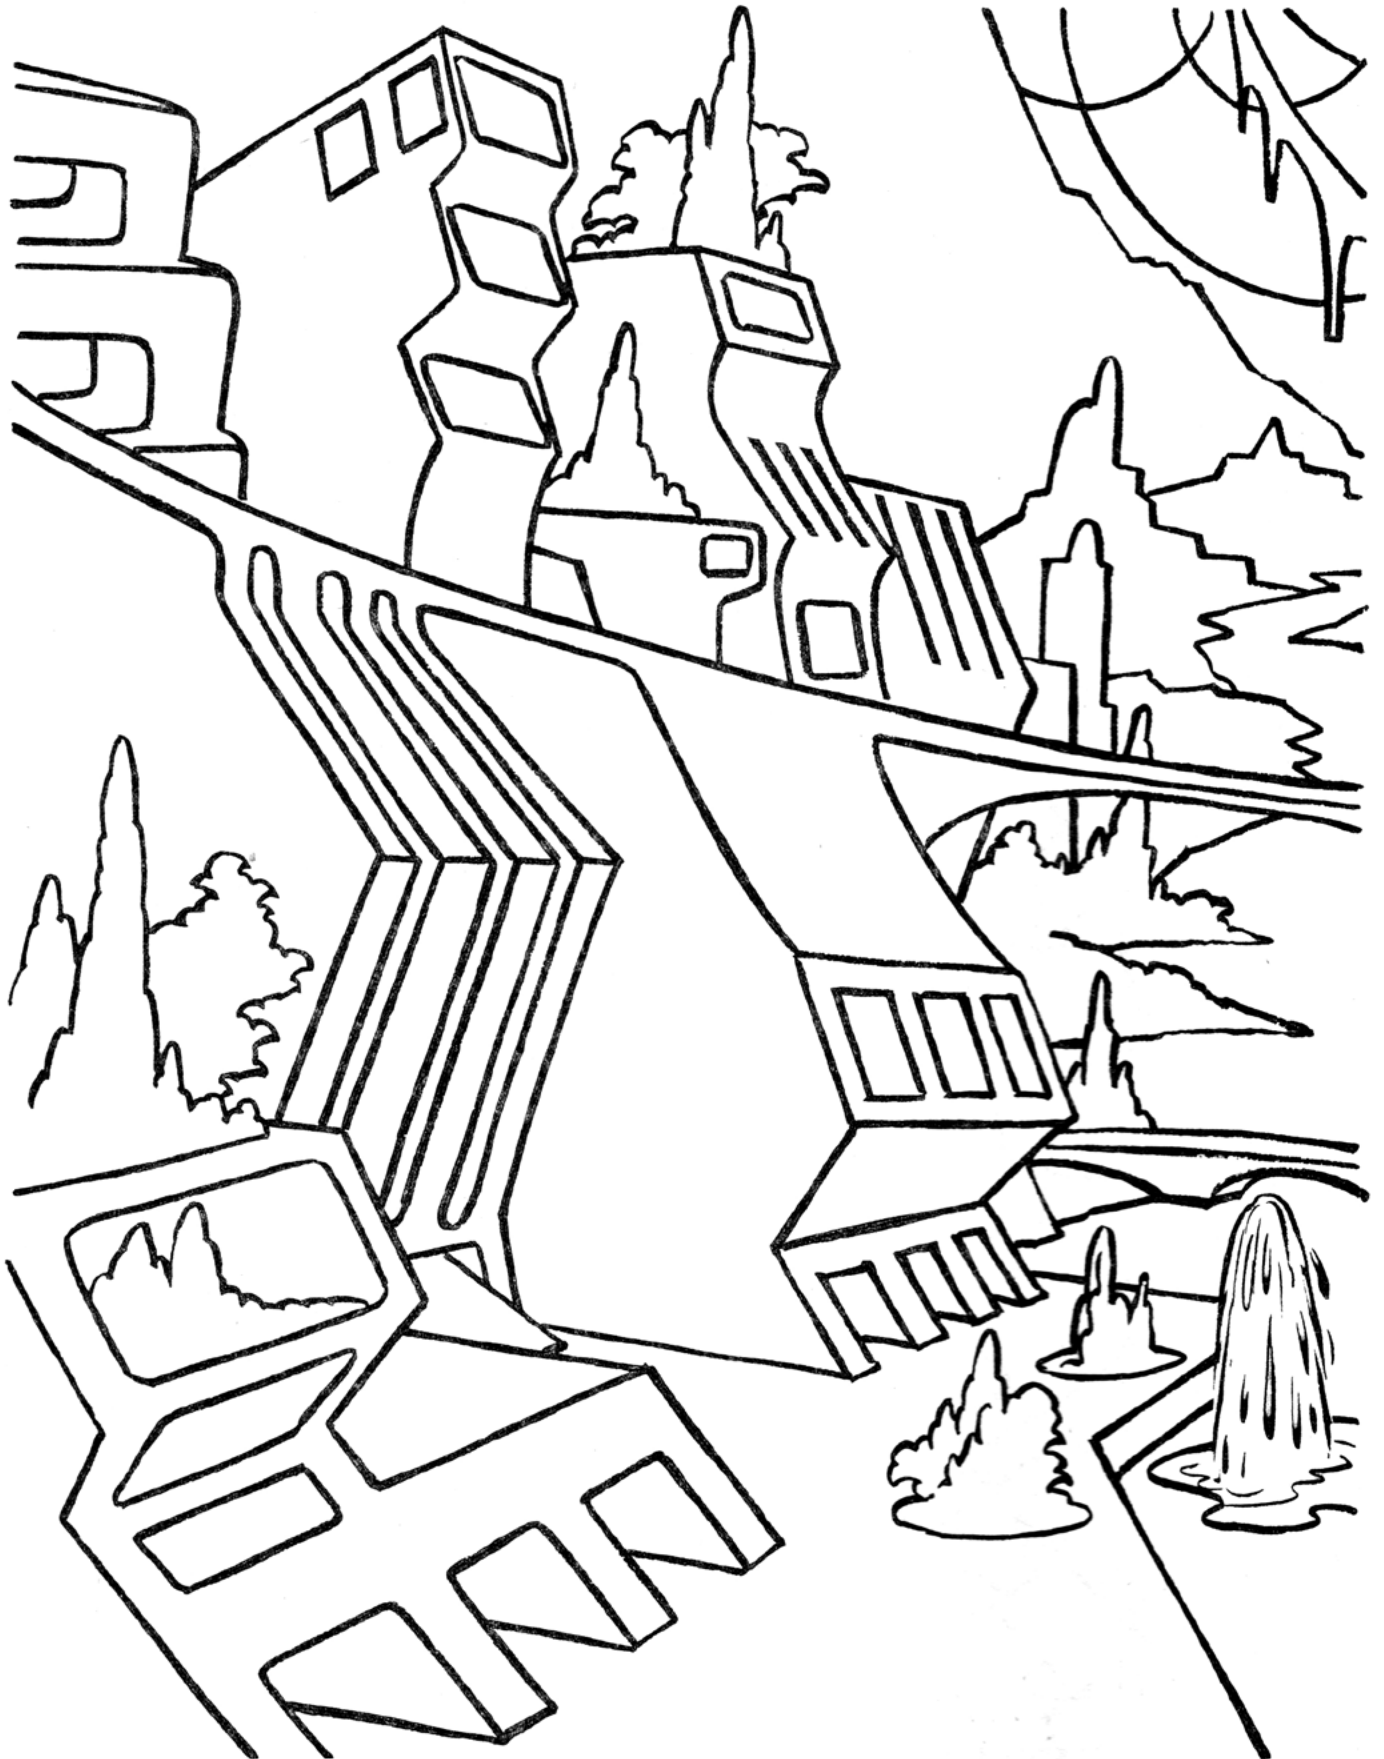

. . .people drive strange vehicles.

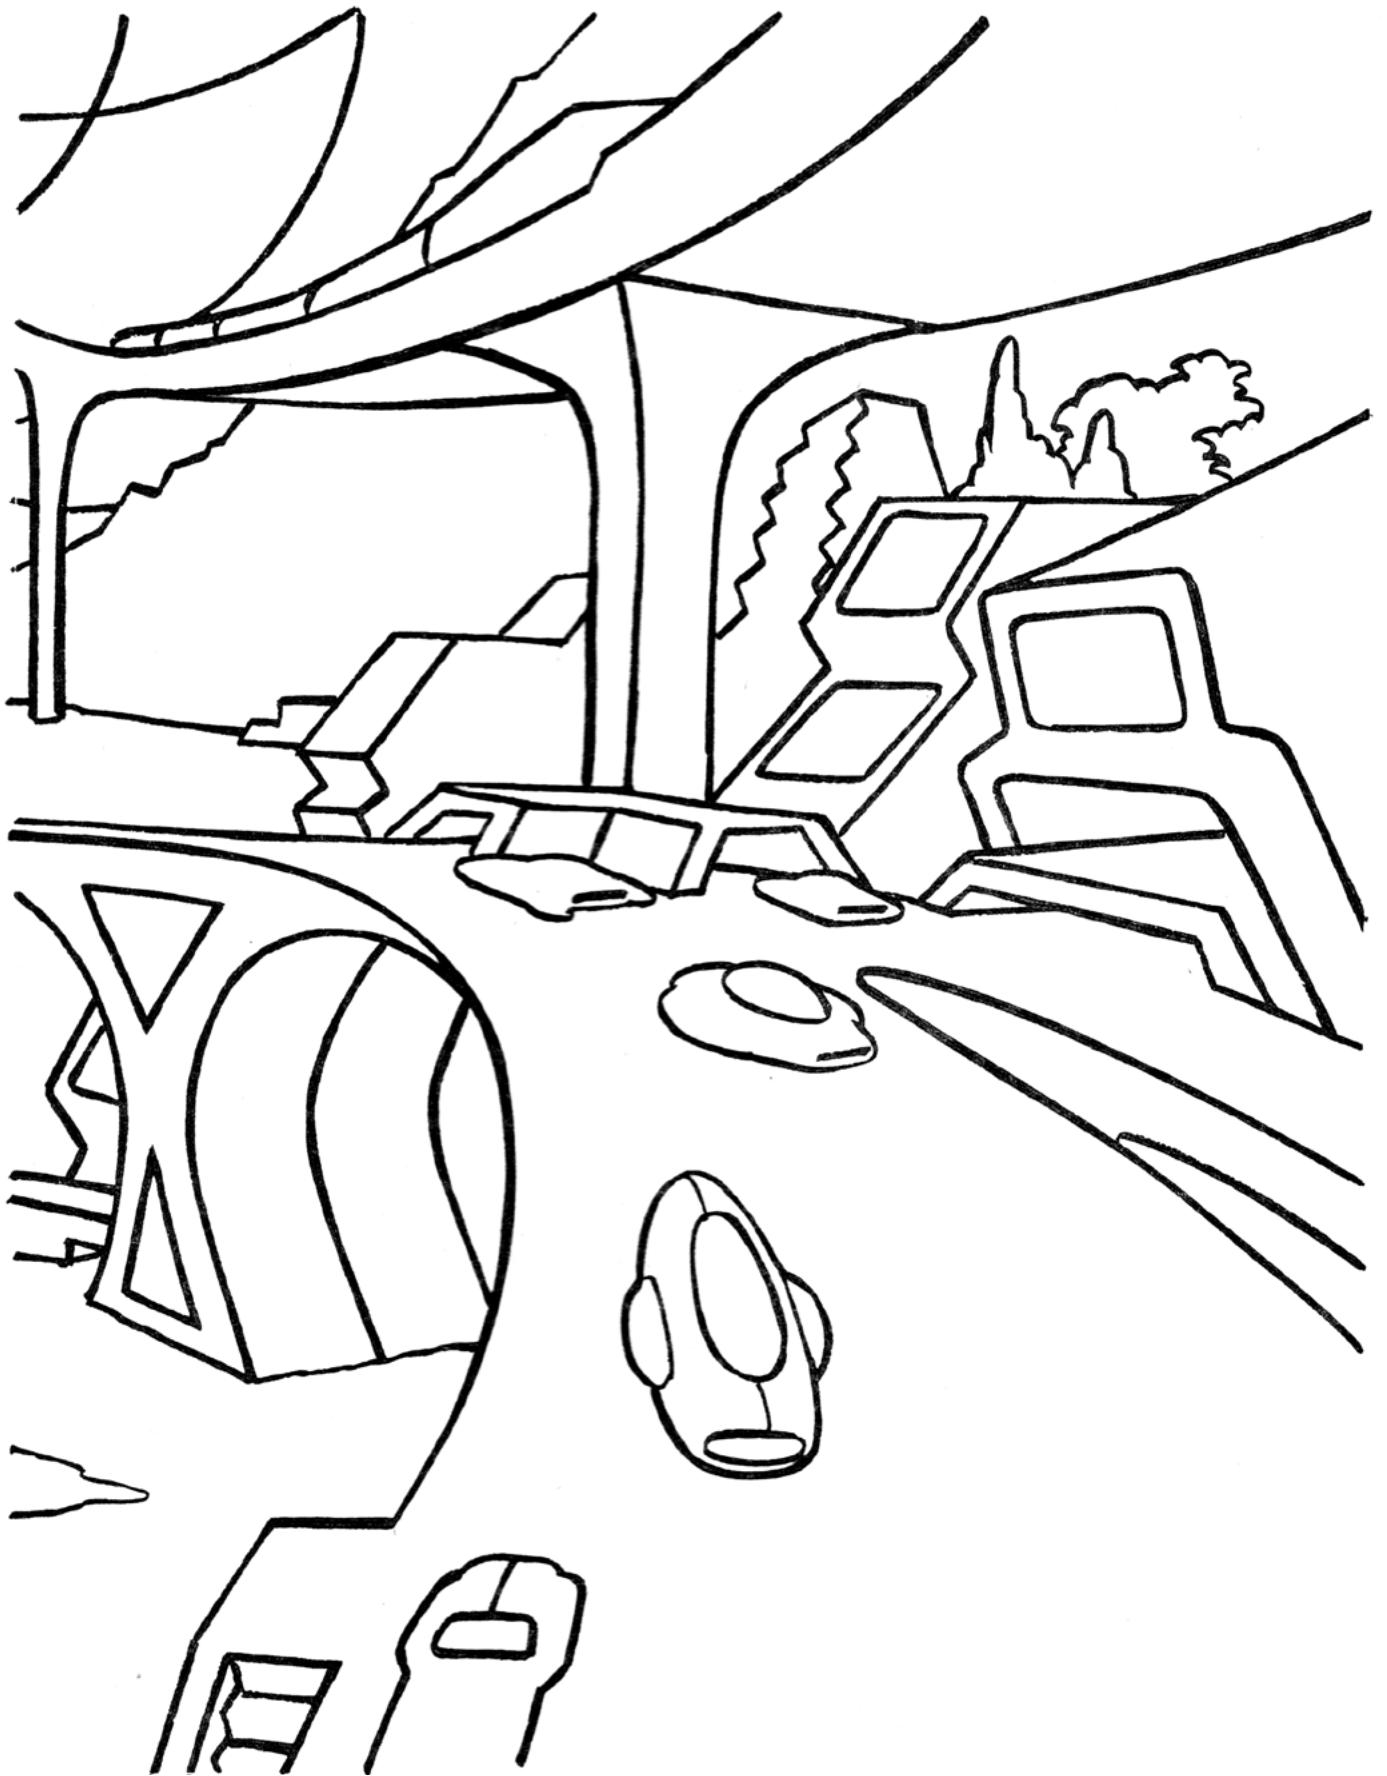

The car of the future may travel in the air.

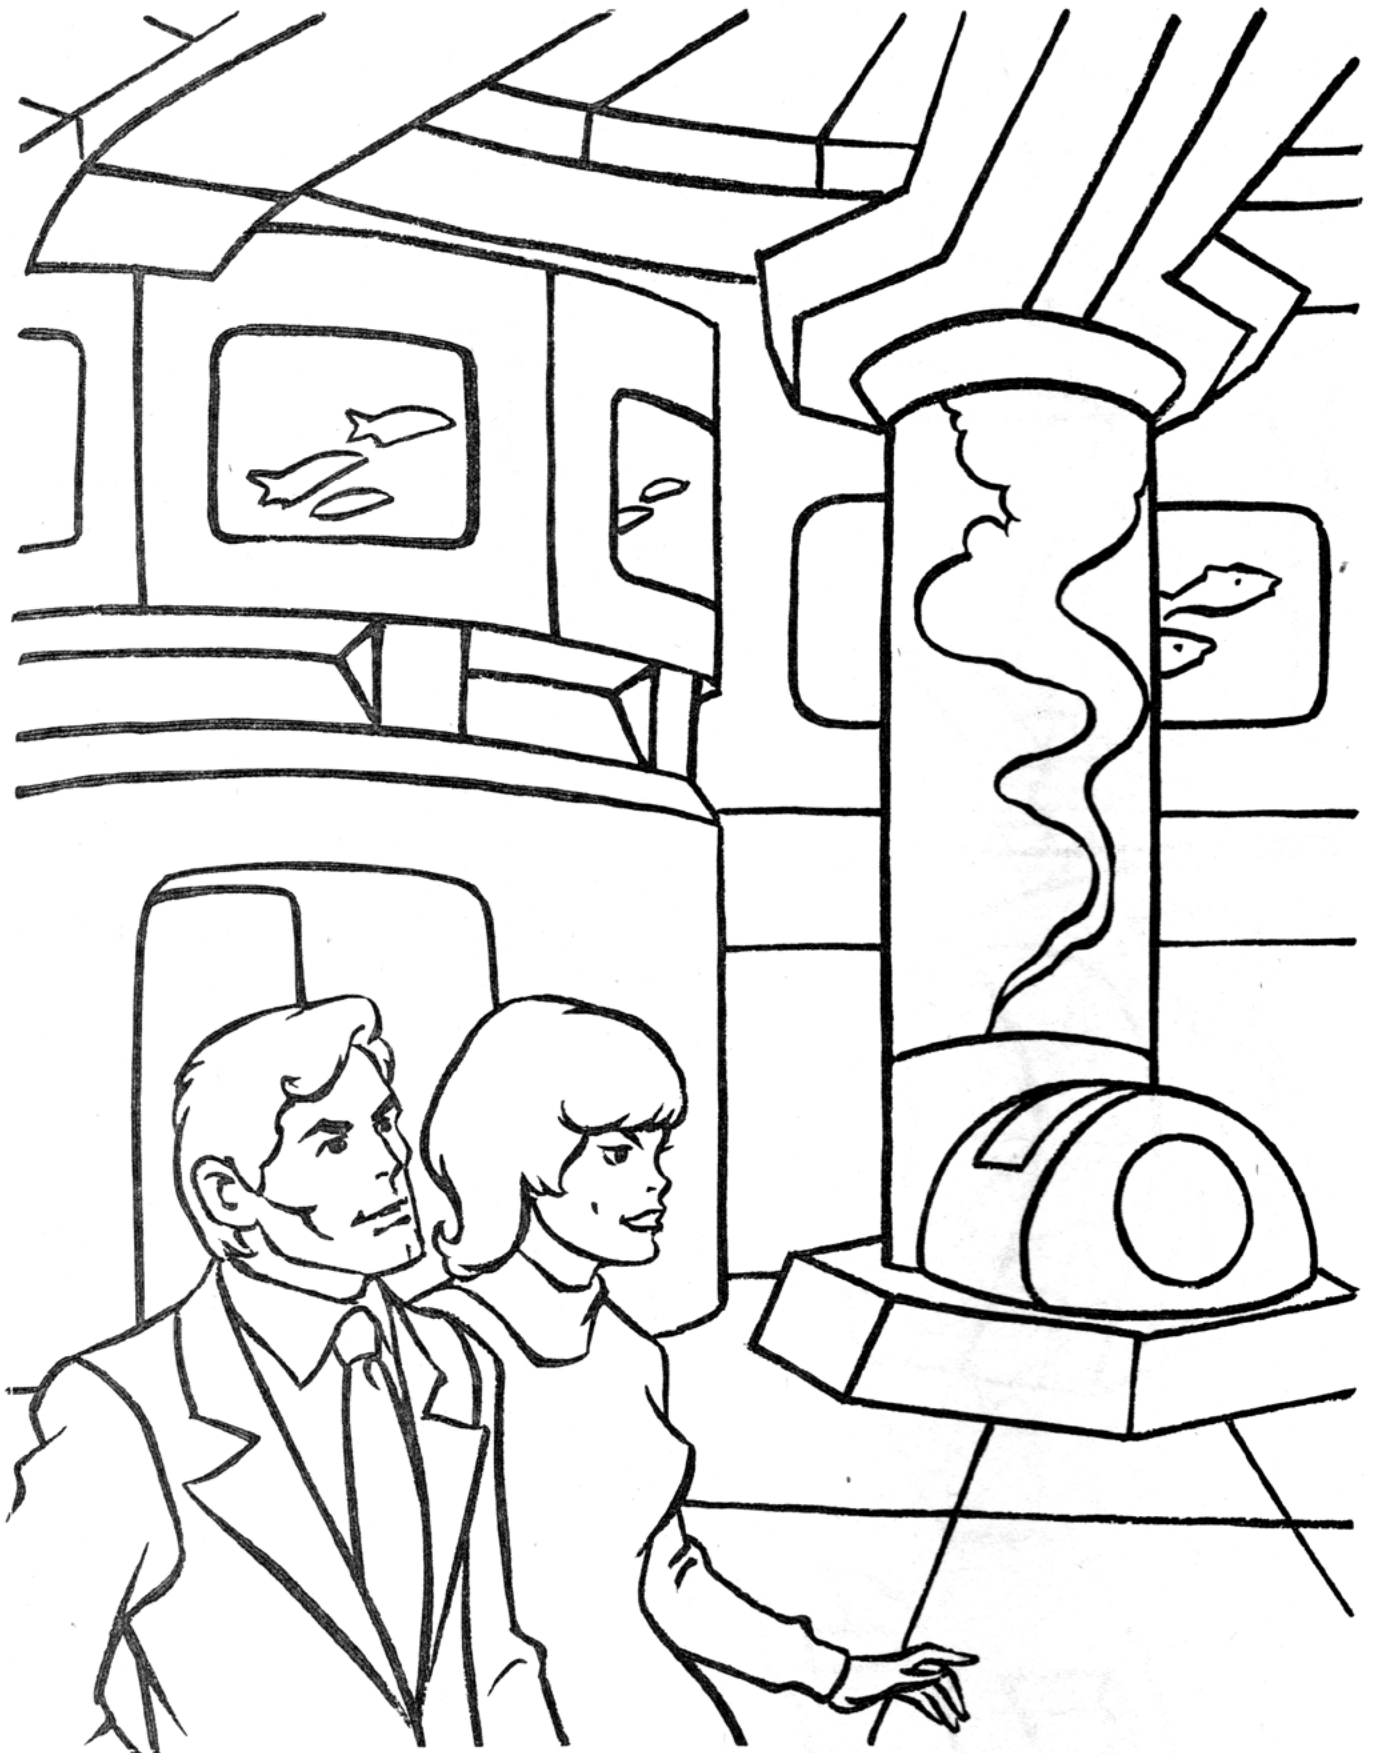

A shuttle docks at the port of a space colony.

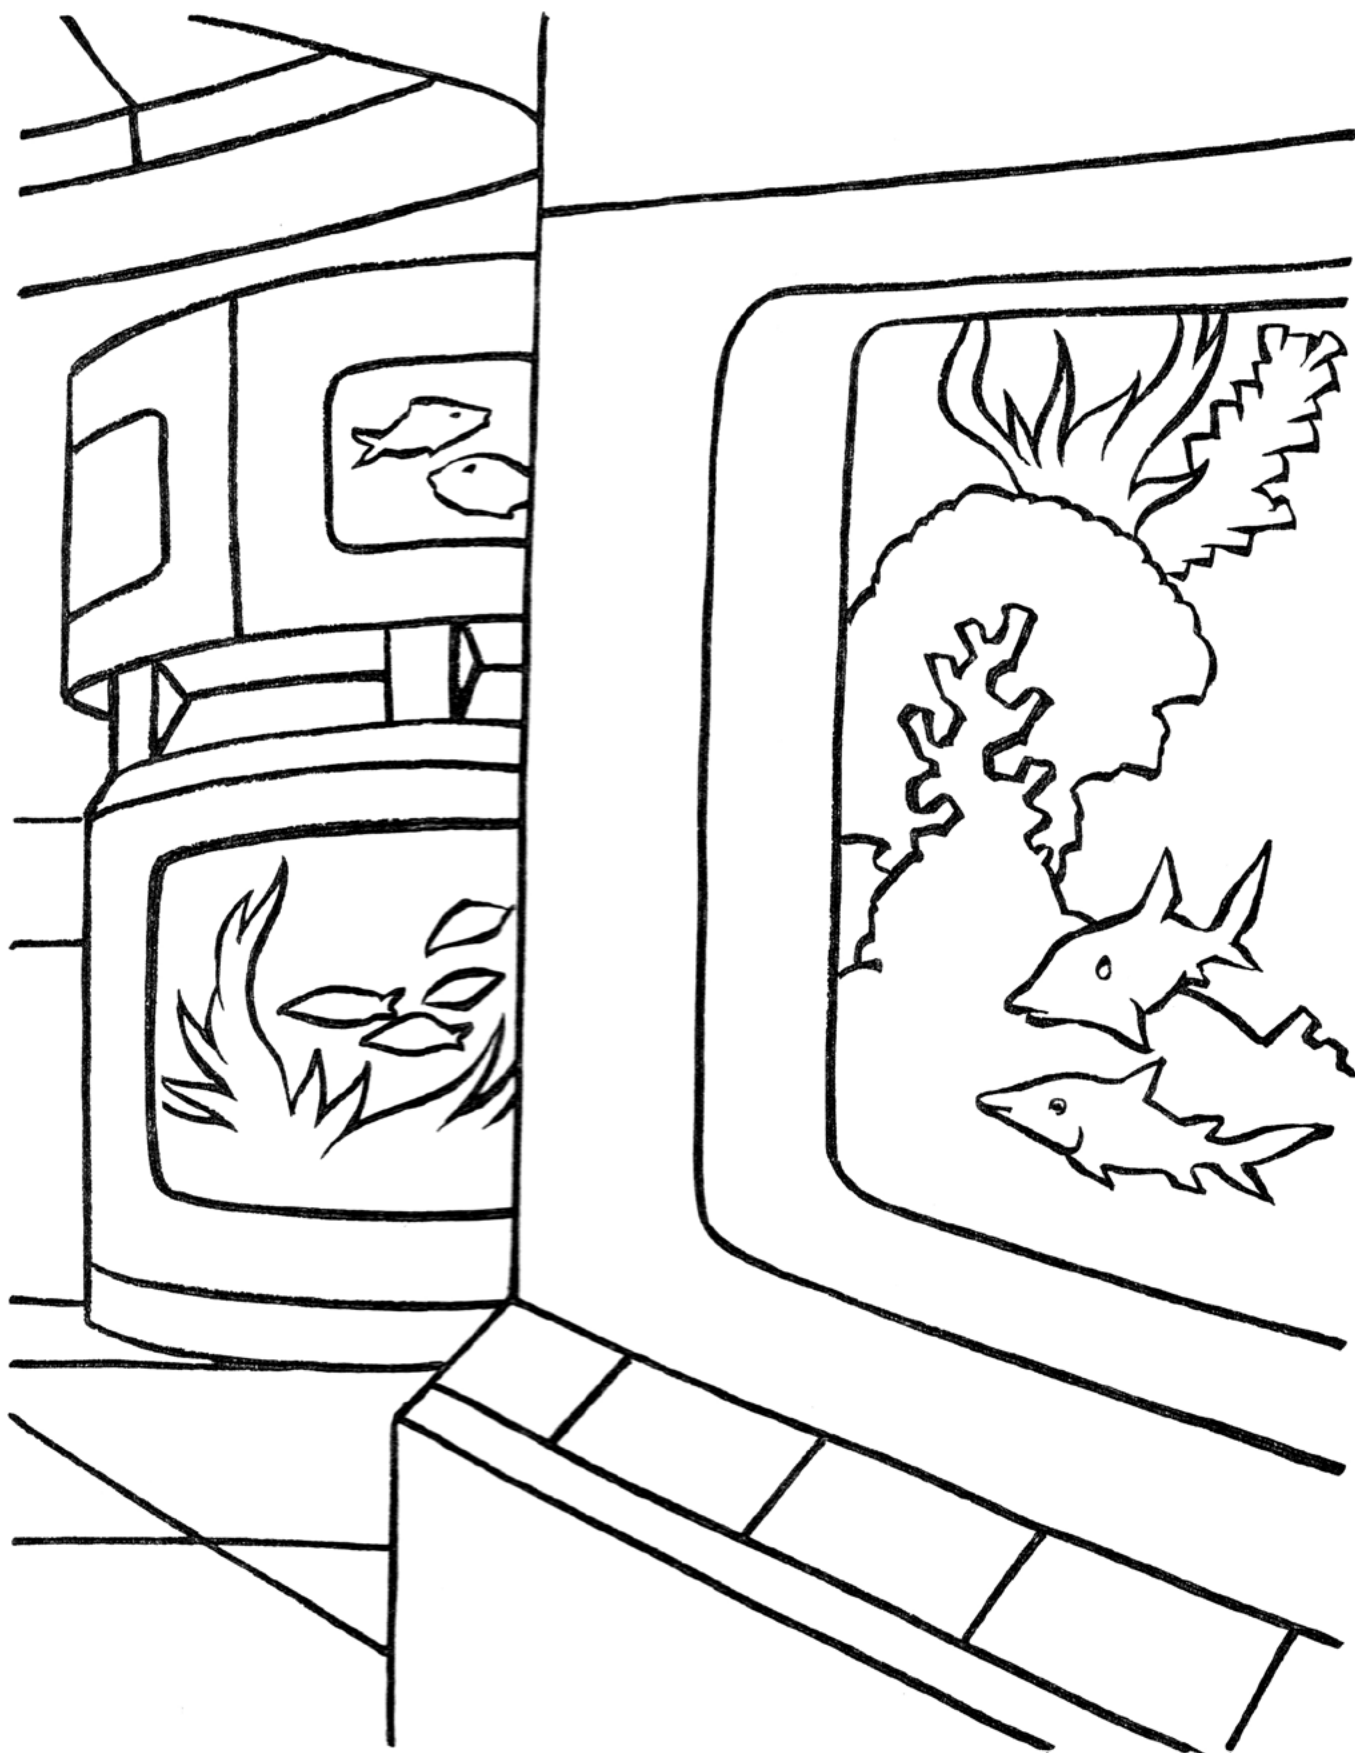

This space colony in the Horizons Pavilion. . .

. . .has houses, roads and lakes just like Earth.

Someday there will be a Living Seas Pavilion. . .

...where you can visit and underwater sea base.

Dolphins will work alongside a diver.

WORLD SHOWCASE

When you visit EPCOT'S World Showcase, you will feel like you've on a trip around the world! That's because each pavilion at World Showcase represents a different country—with buildings, streets, gardens, shops and restaurants made to look just like those back home.

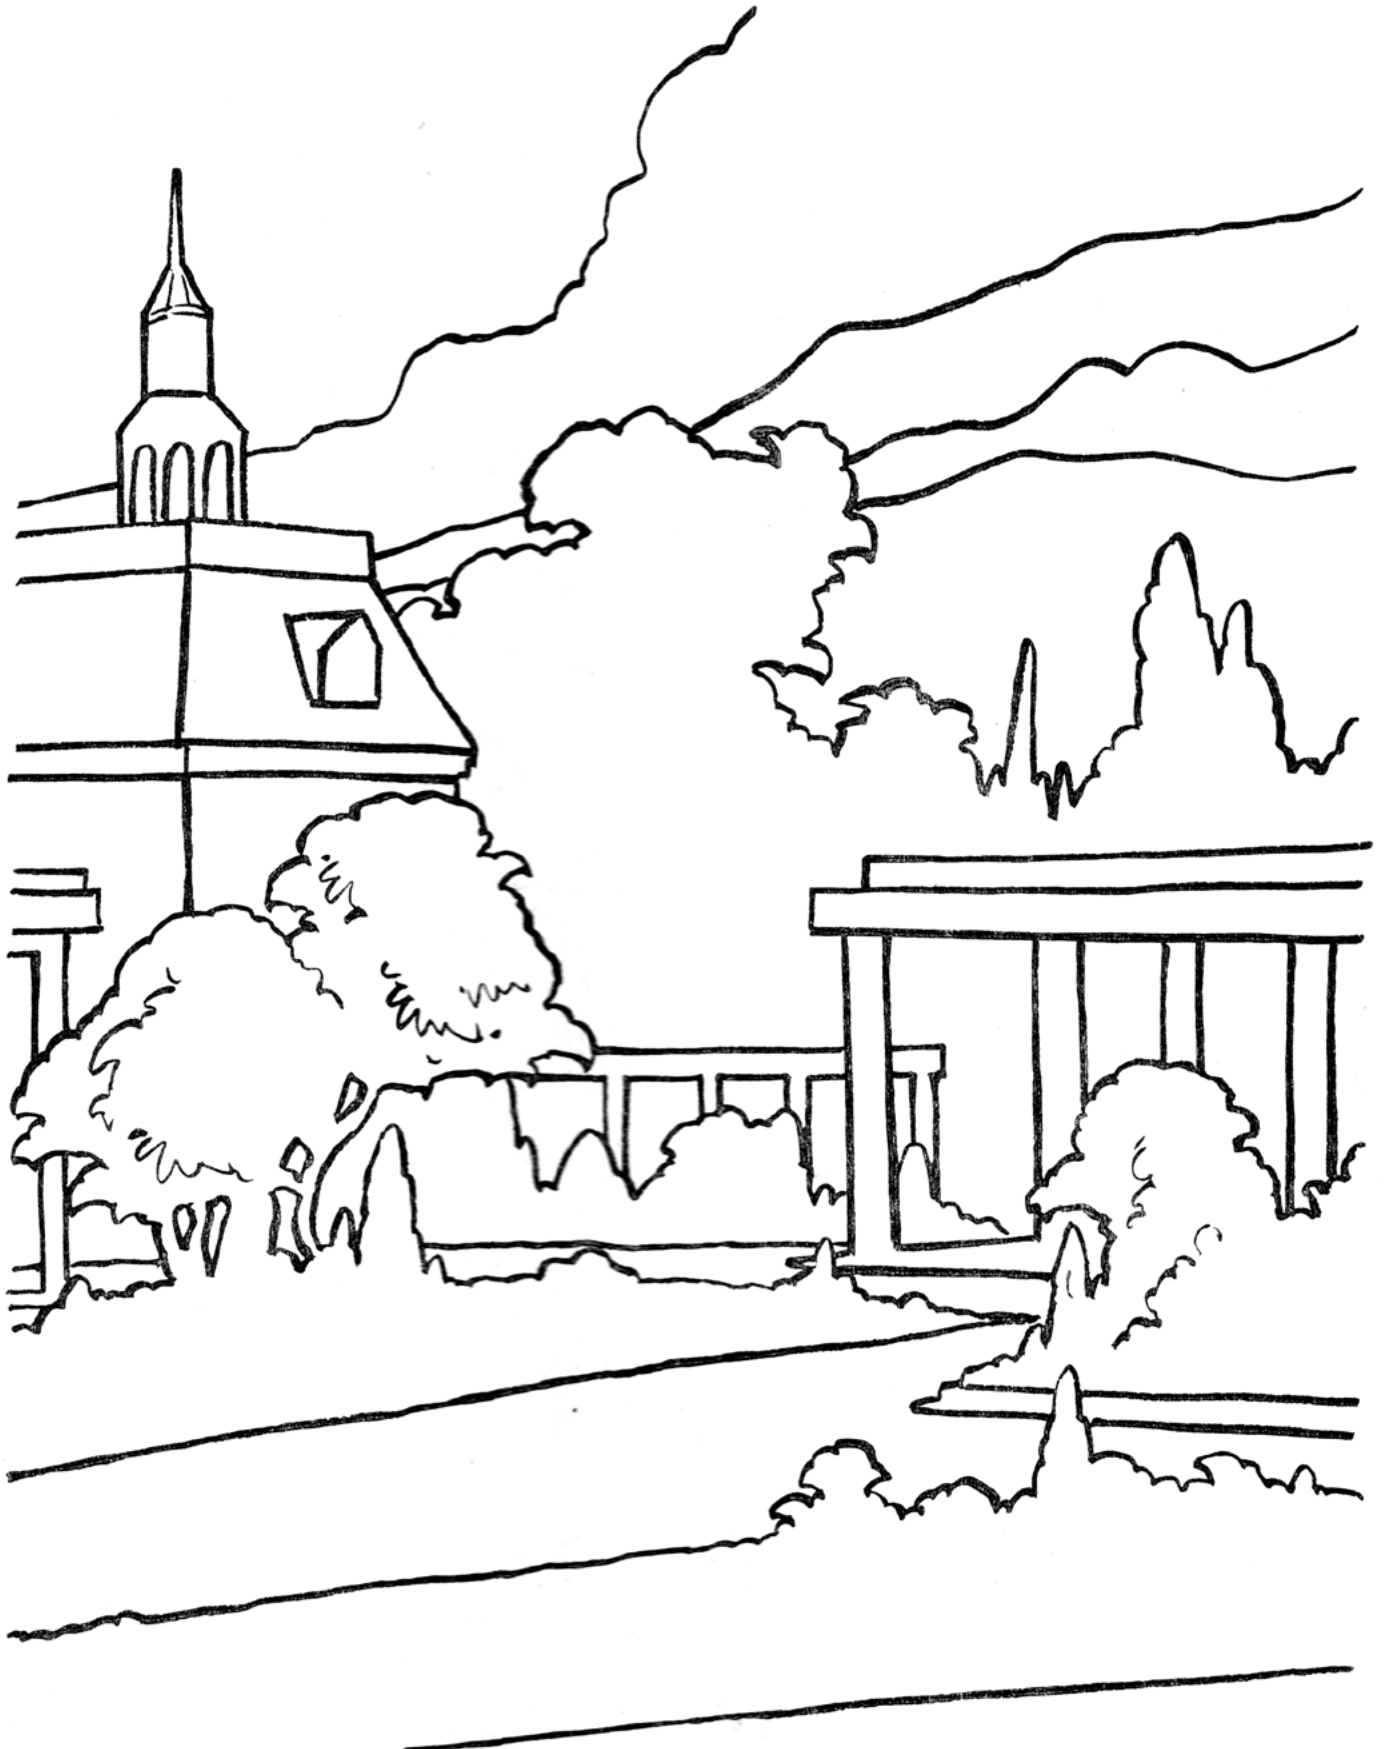

In one day, you can visit Mexico, China,, Germany, Italy, Japan, France, the United Kingdom, Canada and the United States. And while you're in each pavilion, you can meet people from the country it represents.

There's a lot to see and do at World Showcase. You can watch an Italian puppet show, take a boat ride through the history of Mexico, or listen to troubadours from England serenade you. You can shop in a German toy store, watch a Chinese dragon dance in the street, or eat at a French sidewalk cafe. At World Showcase, you'll learn about the cultures, customs, crafts and food of many different countries.

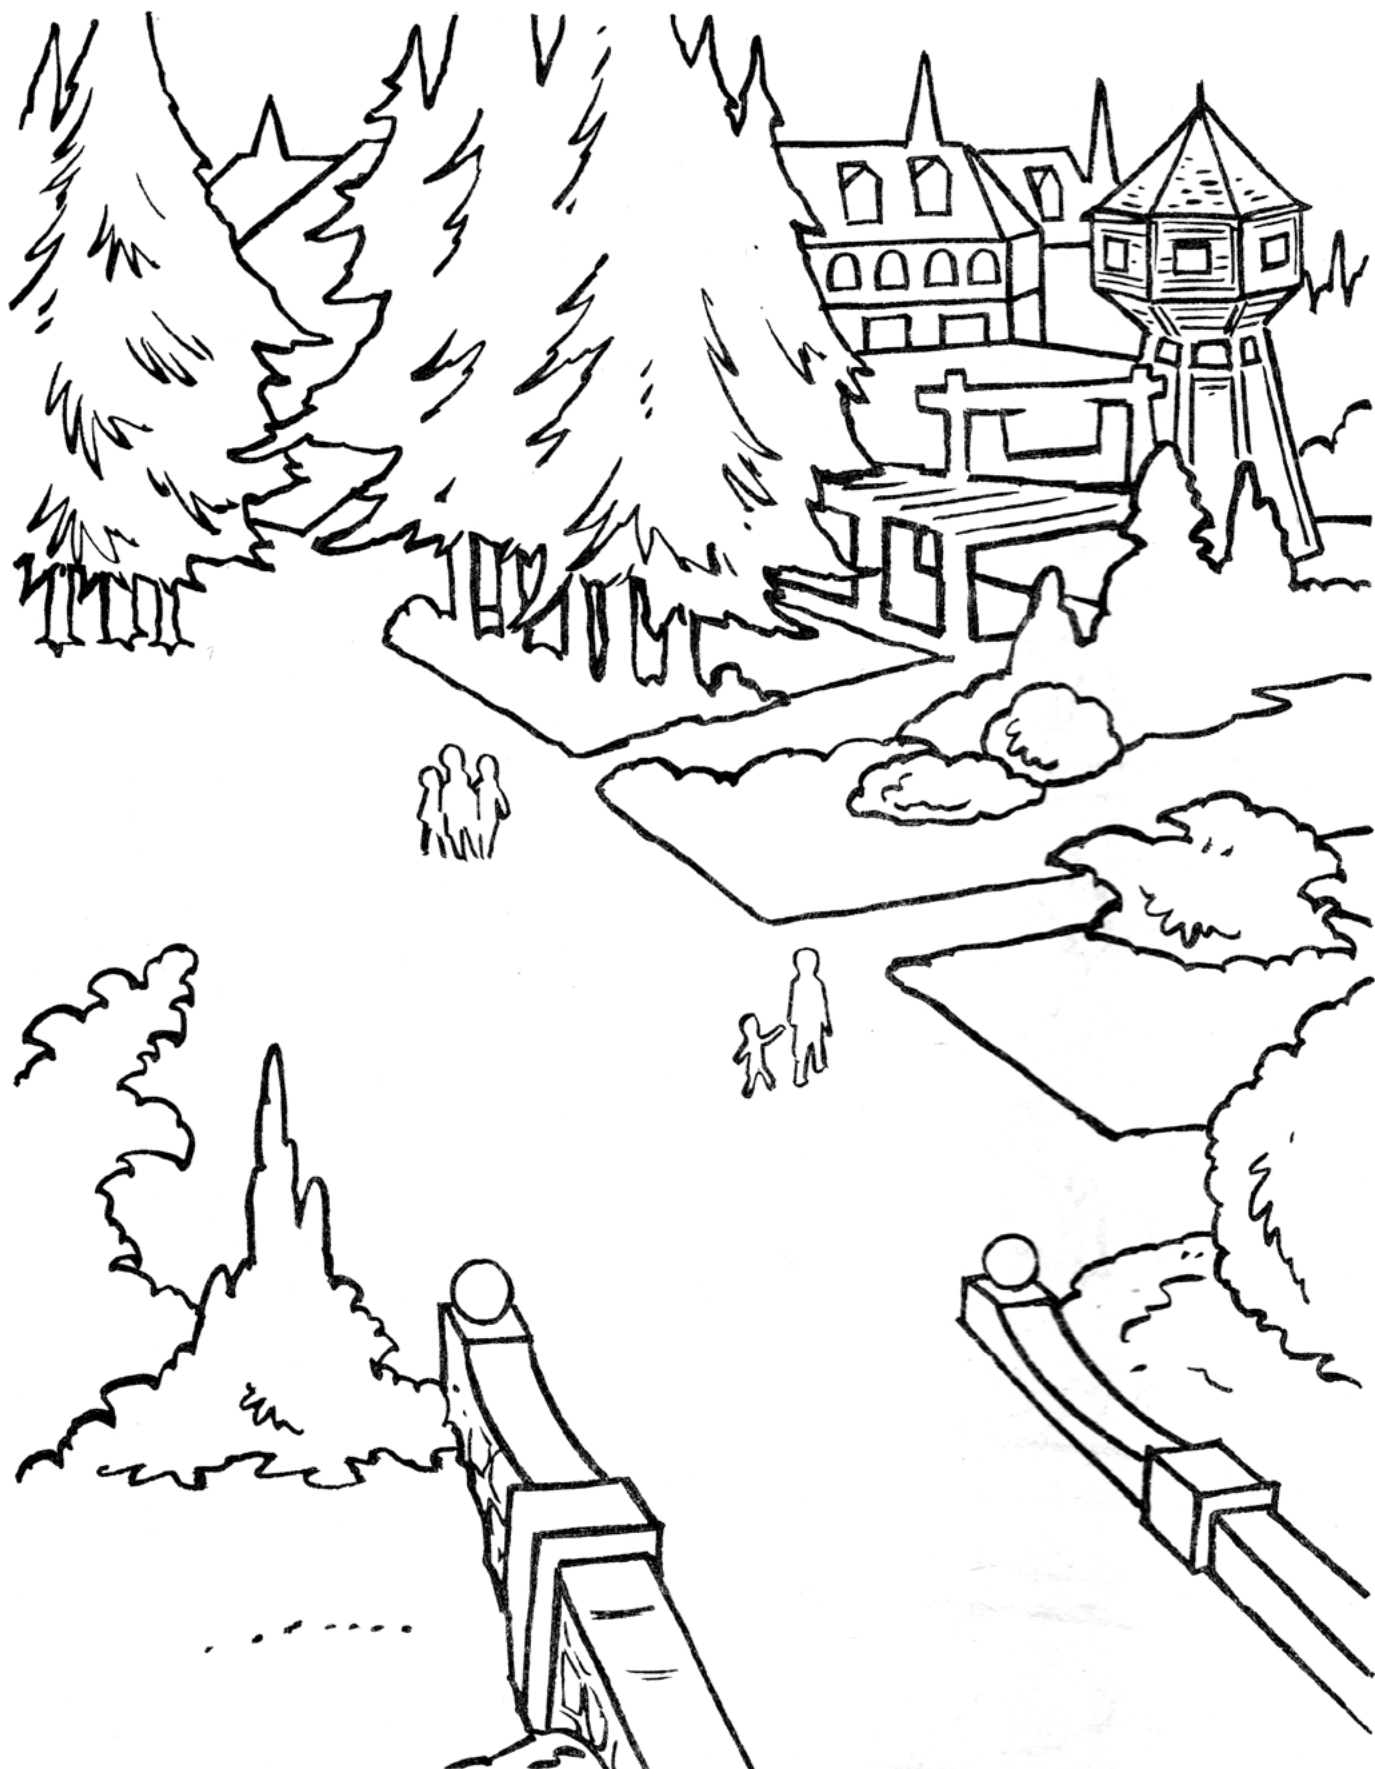

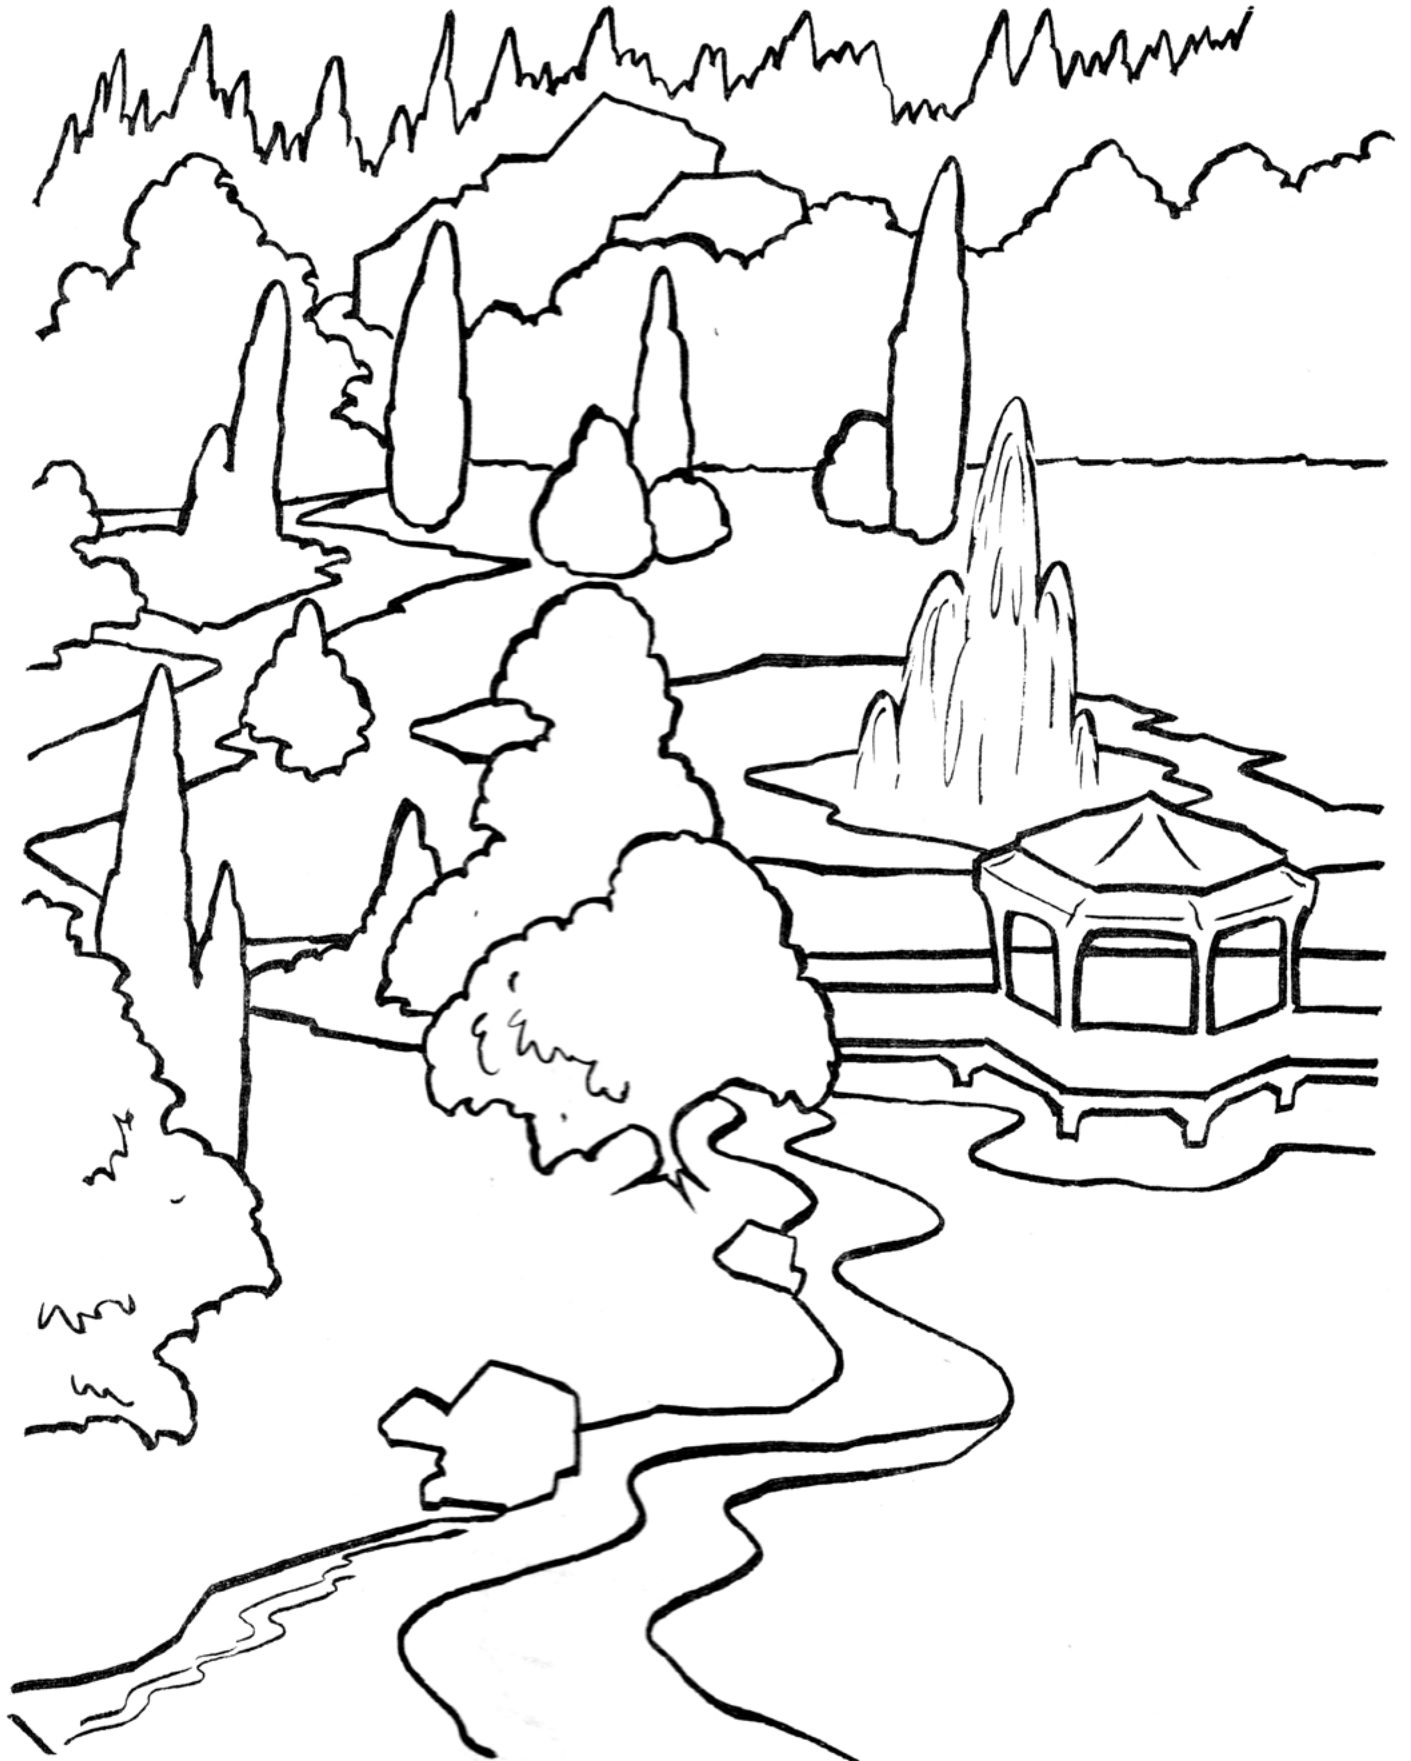

Our country's story is told. . .

. . .at the American Adventure Pavilion.

All around the Canada Pavilion . .

. . .are beautiful flowers and trees.

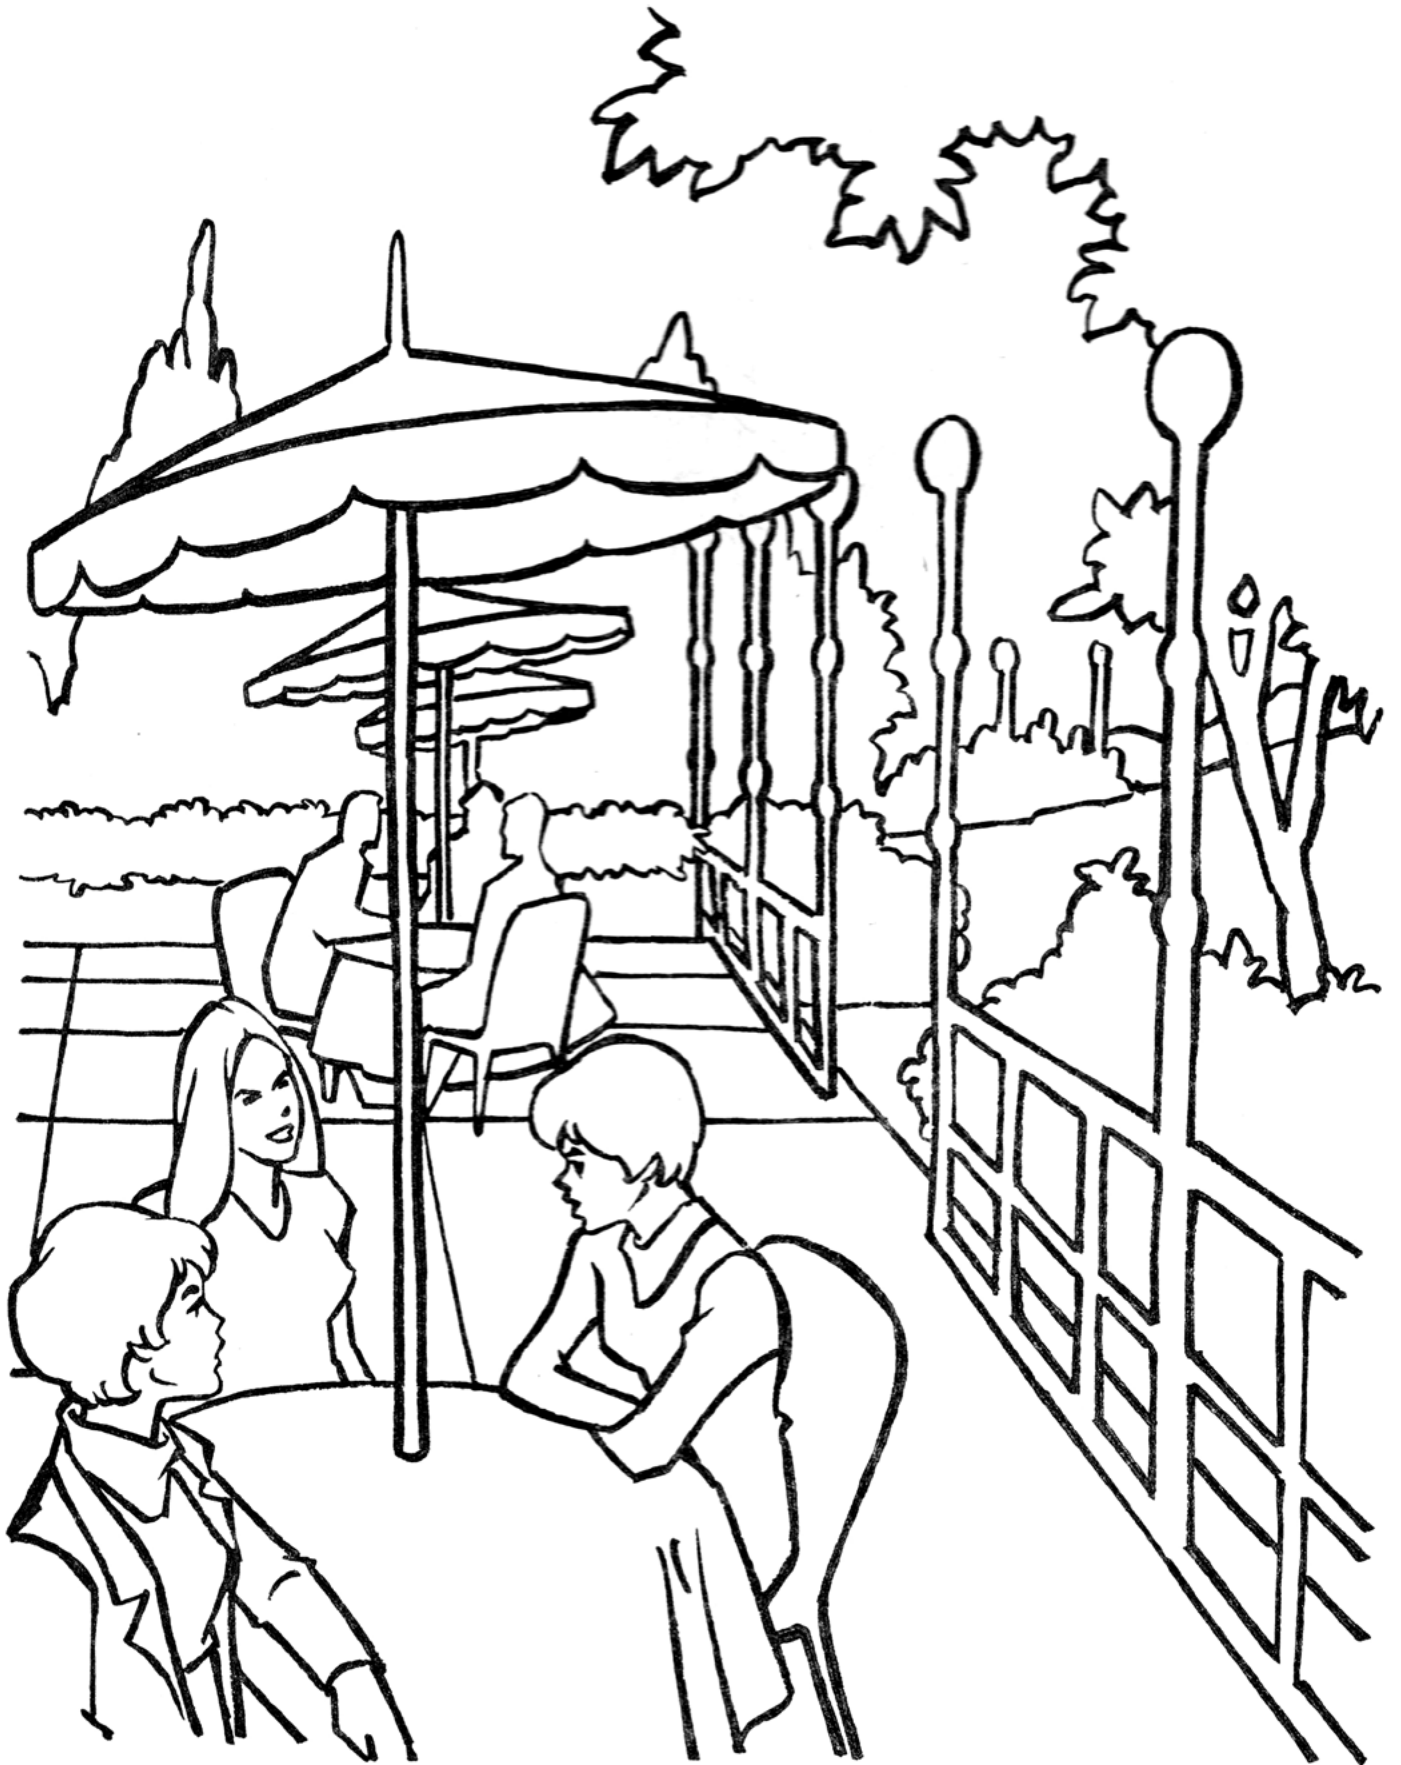

At the United Kingdom Pavilion. . .

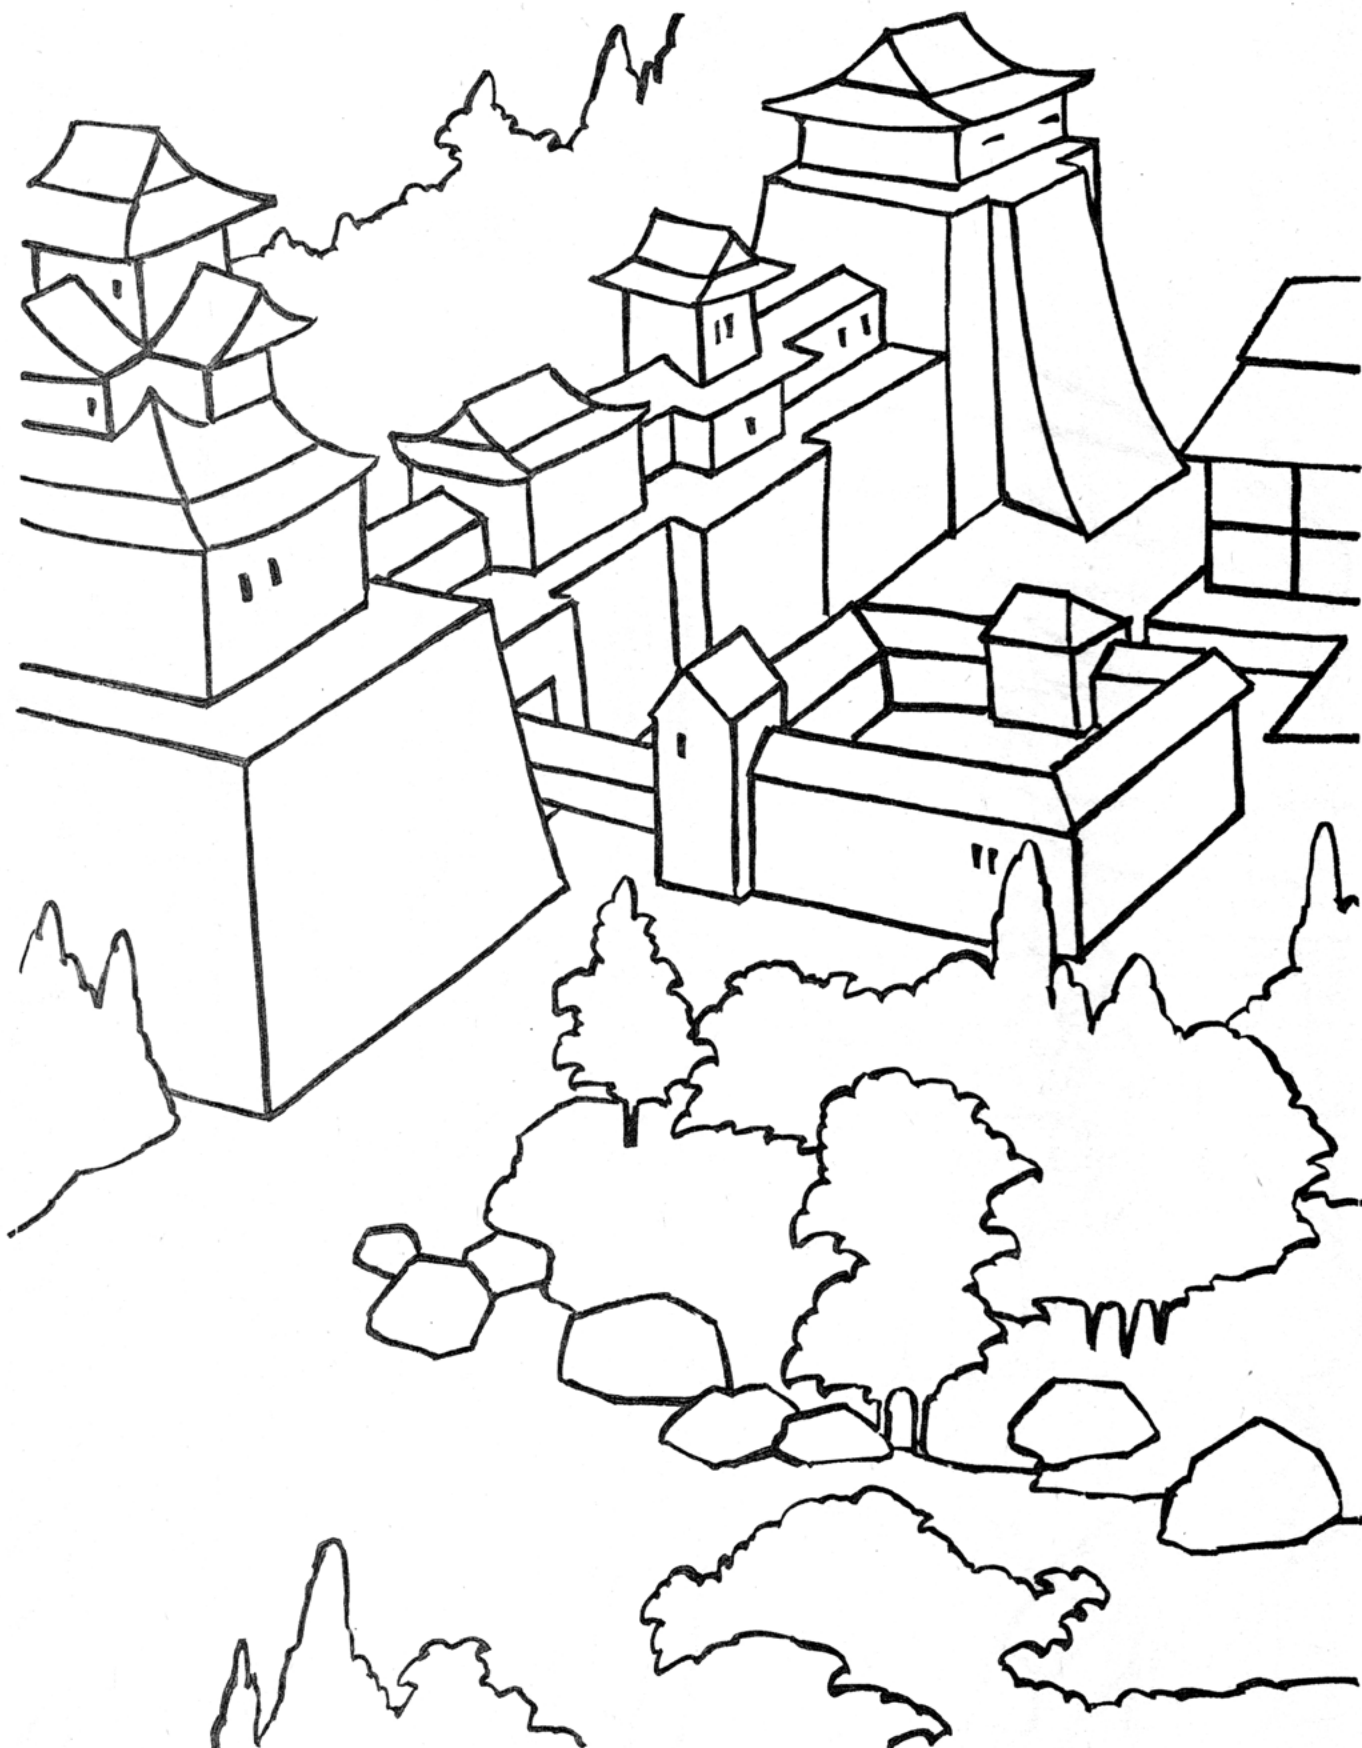

. . .visitors shop on cobblestone streets.

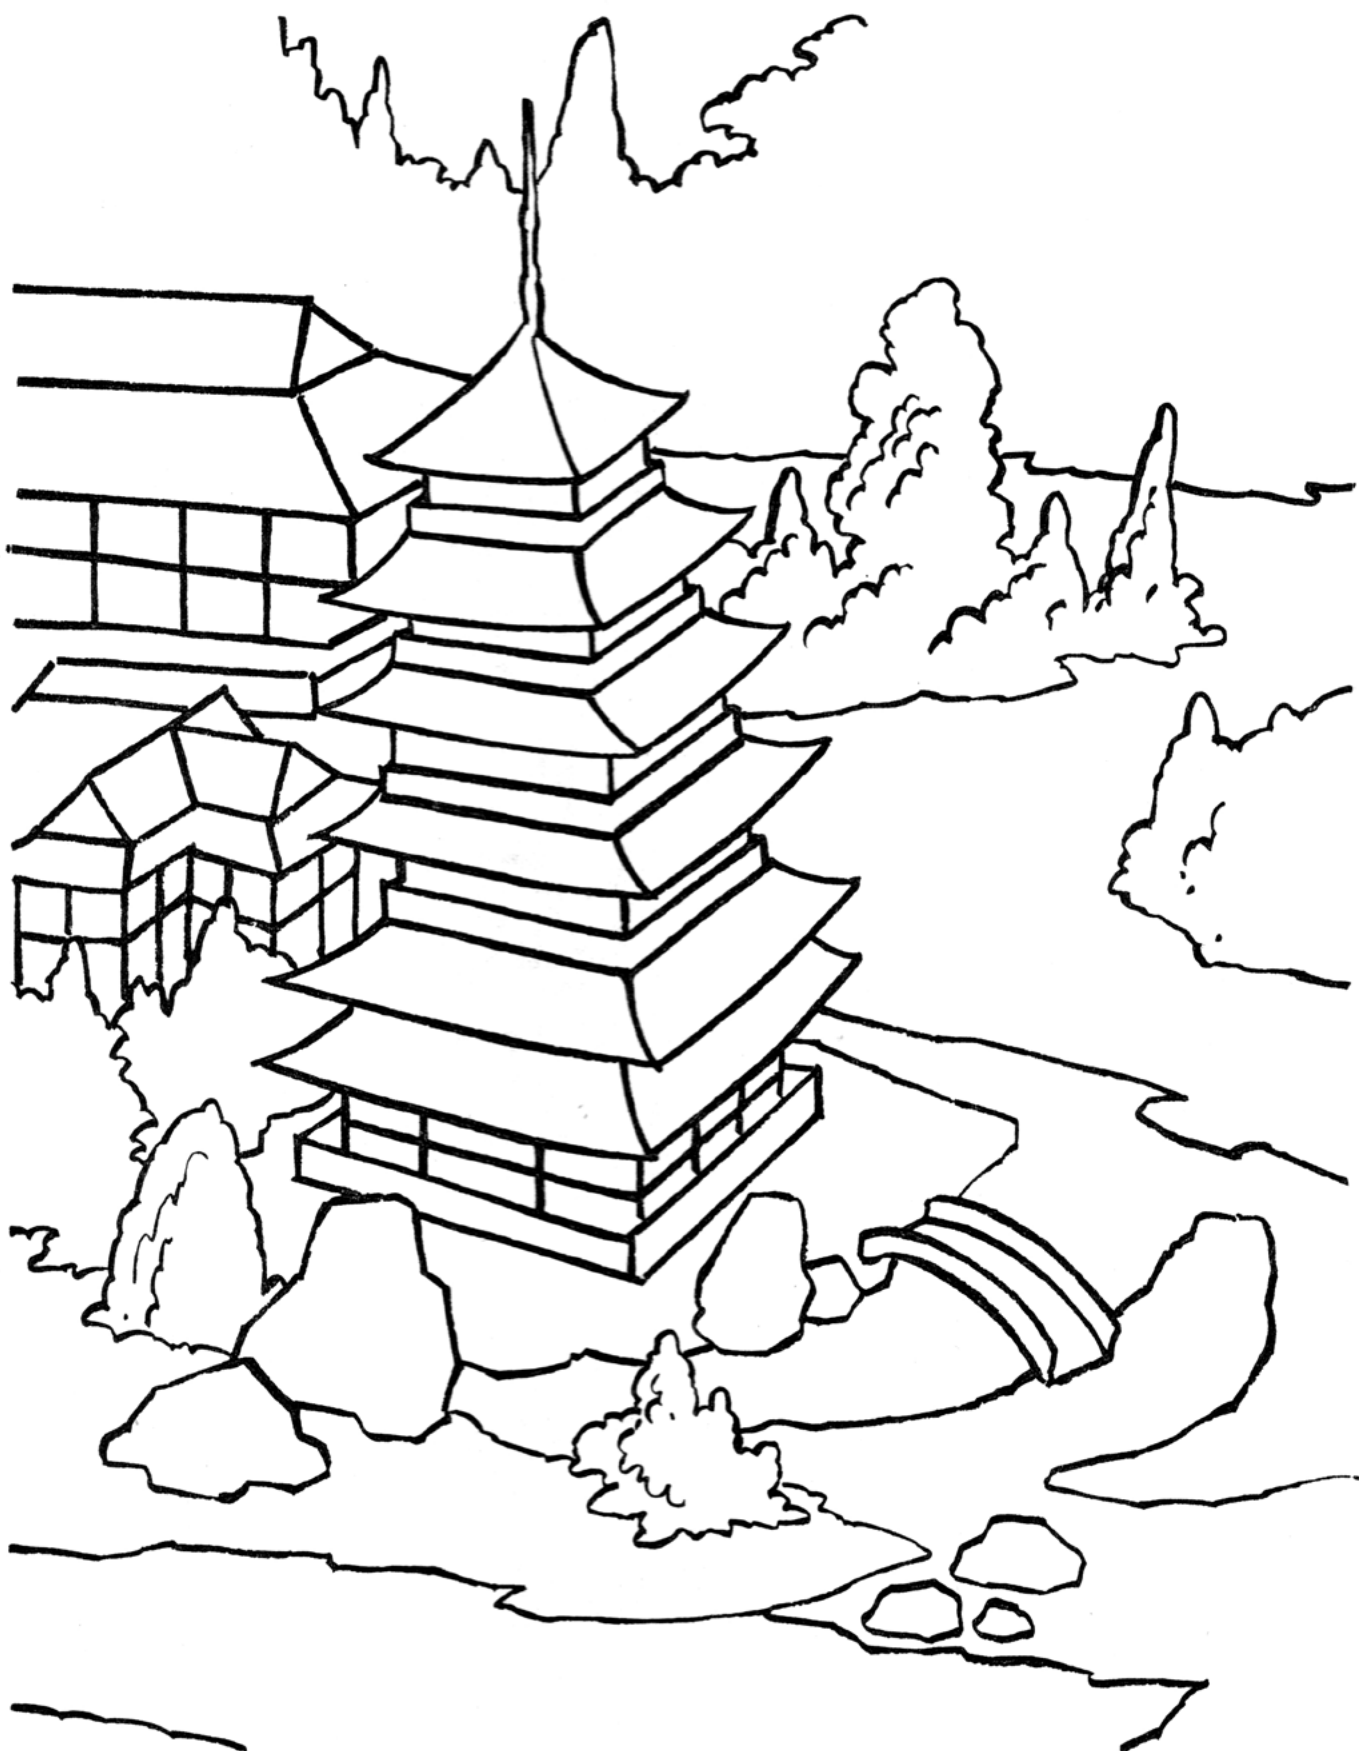

This sidewalk cafe at the French Pavilion. . .
